SNEED WEEPS WITH OTHERS

PROGNOSIS OF CHILD MISSING MOTHER'S PICTURE STARTS TEARS.

PRISONER WINS POINT

DEFENSE REGAINS PART OF THE GROUND LOST BY RULING.

DEAD MAN'S COMMENT TOLD

Witness Says Mrs. Sneed Was Reflected in Terms of "Vulgar, Obscene and Defamatory."

Fort Worth, Nov. 22.—Sneed, Cone Johnson, many spectators and some of the jurors cried this afternoon, when Henry Bowman of Plano, brother-in-law of Sneed, told of Georgia Sneed, Sneed's youngest daughter, standing upon the bed and kissing the picture of her missing mother on the wall during the time the family was at Henry Bowman's home, before Sneed had located his wife in Winnipeg.

Nanny women in the court room sobbed audibly.

A touch of humor occurred earlier in the session when Judge Swayne, in overruling Cone Johnson, said that he was the greatest lawyer in Texas. All the other attorneys, both for the state and defense, immediately excepted, much to Johnson's embarrassment.

Sneed today regained part of the ground he lost Thursday in Judge Swayne's blanket exclusion of all testimony alleging Captain Boyce made remarks about Mrs. Sneed after her elopement with Al Boyce Jr. and before her return to Texas.

Were the remarks vulgar, obscene and defamatory? Cone Johnson asked. "Yes," said the witness, "at the same time that Senator Hanger of the prosecution interposed an objection. Judge Swayne overruled the objection."

Johnson rose smiling. It was the first triumph of the defense in the long and bitterly fought argument over the admissibility of testimony for the defense that is half of the defense itself.

"Your honor," he said, "you refused to let a witness answer that question a few days ago."

"Then he recalled S. J. Blaise of Amarillo and Ray Wheatley of Amarillo, both of whom said they had heard similar remarks from the lips of Captain Boyce, and had them answer that the remarks were vulgar, obscene and defamatory," Eugene Buck, district clerk, also heard such remarks, he said.

Argue Two Days.

Throughout the argument in which lawyers for the state and for the defense have consumed most of the court's time for two days, Judge Swayne has refused to allow the witnesses to repeat Captain Boyce's alleged remarks and even to say that they were "vulgar, obscene and defamatory."

Doctor on Stand.

Dr. R. L. McMeans of Amarillo was the first witness Friday morning. He replied to questions put by Attorney McLean Jr. that he had treated Mrs. Sneed for nervous troubles, and also a form of trouble that sometimes leads to insanity. He said that Sneed was a good father and husband and solicited of the welfare of his family.

He testified that he had heard on the streets of Amarillo of the tale that Captain Boyce was making about Mrs. Sneed.

He was asked if he had not told Sneed that unless his wife were given certain treatment she might become insane, and he replied that he had.

Attorney Hanger, on cross-examination, asked if a high altitude did not cause a highly nervous condition in both men and women. Dr. McMeans replied that it was a medical theory that it did. He said that the altitude of Amarillo was about 3600 feet, or five feet higher than Fort Worth.

He was asked if he did not testify to the grand jury that was investigating the escape from the sanitarium of Mrs. Sneed that she was not insane. He stated that he did not testify that she was sane, but highly nervous. He did not say anything to Sneed concerning Al Boyce Jr.

Mrs. B. M. Morris of Amarillo, the wife of a cattlemen there, was next introduced by the defense. She said that she lived about two blocks from the Sneed home, and often visited there. She said that, to all appearances, Sneed was a good father and husband. Prior to Mrs. Sneed's coming to Fort Worth to enter the sanitarium, Mrs. Morris testified, Mrs. Sneed's health was not good.

On cross-examination, she said that Mrs. Sneed was an exceedingly bright woman and perfectly sane. She testified that she was the next witness for the defense, said that he farmed in a small way, did some trading and other business. He had known Captain Boyce six or seven years and Sneed ten or twelve years. He was a friend of Captain Boyce.

He testified that from the time that Mrs. Sneed and Al Boyce Jr. ran away, he had had many conversations with Captain Boyce, in which the latter mentioned Mrs. Sneed. Boyce told him that his son was in Canada.

Attorney McLean then asked the witness if he had had a conversation with Mr. Fugate in which he told him what Captain Boyce had said about Sneed's wife. He answered in the affirmative. This was as far as the de-

TURKS APPEAR TO WAIT HIGHER BID

EFFORTS TOWARD PEACE IN THE BALKANS APPARENTLY AT STANDSTILL.

SERVIAN'S FORCES IN ACTION

Troops Near Adriatic Experience Hardships in Snow—Bulgarians Capture Town of Dedaghtich.

London, Nov. 22.—The efforts toward peace in the Balkans made no visible progress today. Exchanges of artillery fire and infantry reconnaissance proceeded along the Tchaatalja line and Nazim Pasha, the Turkish commander-in-chief, in a despatch claims that infantry battle occurred in front of the center of his position and that the Bulgarians left several thousand dead before the Turkish outposts. Not much credence is placed in this report, however.

The Servians' forces advancing toward the Adriatic are meeting with hardships in the barren country which is buried deep in snow and the allies are still harassing the remains of the Turkish army that was driven from Monastir.

The Bulgarians have occupied the important town of Dedaghtich, the terminus of the Saloniki railway on the Aegean Sea.

The Turkish cruiser Hamidieh came into port at Constantinople damaged from a Bulgarian torpedo. The Turks claim that the Hamidieh sank two of the Bulgarian torpedo boats with which she was engaged yesterday, has not yet been confirmed.

The peace negotiations are believed by the diplomats to have only been suspended by reason of Turkey's refusal to accept the first offer of the allies and to them the Turkish position appears to be one of awaiting expectantly for another bid. The best opinion in London is that a compromise will be effected between the belligerents and that the powers are using their good offices behind the scene with this end in view.

Whatever basis for an armistice may be reached, it is expected that it will leave in abeyance for the moment the question of a peace treaty the amount of territory Turkey will eventually be permitted to retain. The contract, it is expected, will include Bulgaria's renunciation of intention to enter Constantinople.

Reports emanating from Vienna announce that the Albanians will proclaim their independence tomorrow at Durazzo, from which place the Servians are yet five or six days' march, and there will be a joint Austrian and Italian naval demonstration off that port.

TRIAL VISITORS BRING LUNCH

Scores of Women Crowd for Place in Courtroom Where Miss Farley Faces Murder Charge.

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 22.—The first degree murder case against Cecile Farley, the pretty state house stenographer, charged with shooting Alvin E. Zollinger, will go to the jury about noon tomorrow. Attorneys for the defense late today completed their arguments and the prosecution will sum up for the state tomorrow.

The record crowd of the trial attended today's proceedings. During the noon hour scores of women stood in line waiting for the courtroom doors to open for the afternoon session. Many of them carried their lunches.

Attorneys and judges from many of the courts of the state, attracted by the publicity given the trial, secured advantageous positions. The jury box was nearly surrounded and the attorneys pleading their respective sides of the case had but little clear space between the jurors and the bench of Judge Evans.

Attorney Emmett M. Thompkins in closing his plea for the defense, announced that if Miss Farley is acquitted she and Jerome Quigley will be married and go with the girl's parents to California, as had been planned before the tragedy. He pleaded with the jury to allow the marriage.

SIDNA ALLEN FOUND GUILTY

Leader of Clan Which Shot Up Carroll County Gets Fifteen Years in Prison.

Wytheville, Va., Nov. 22.—Sidna Allen, leader of the clan which shot up the Carroll county courthouse in Hills last March, resulting in the death of five persons, was found guilty of murder in the second degree today for the killing of Judge Thornton L. Masie. The jury fixed the penalty at fifteen years in the penitentiary.

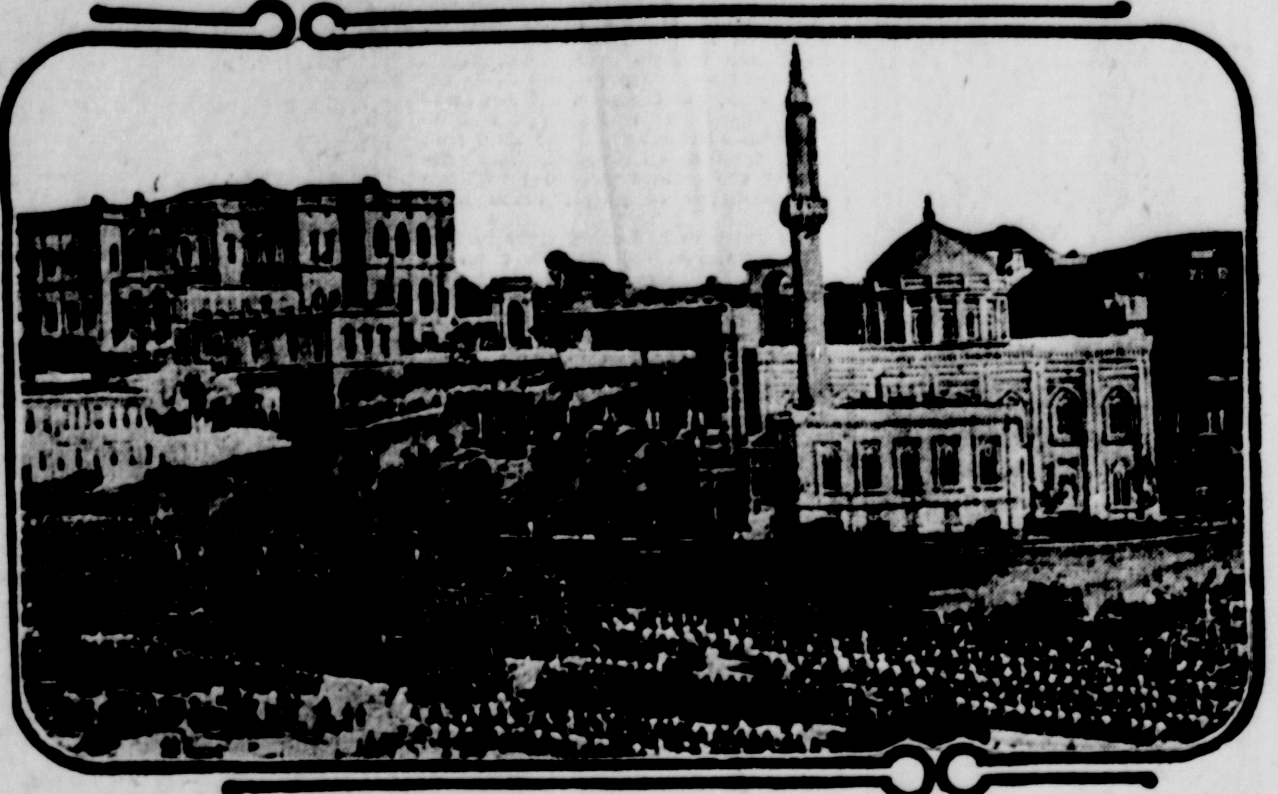

The prosecution announced that it would next take up the indictment charging the murder of Commonwealth Attorney Wm. M. Foster on Dec. 2. The next venire will be summoned from the eastern part of the state.

Until the case of Sidna Allen is disposed of, nothing will be done in the case of his nephew, Wesley Edwards.

Relatives of Victims Testify.

New York, Nov. 22.—Relatives of the victims of the Titanic disaster swore off personal assessments in the court yesterday. The personal estate of Isadore Straus has been assessed at $2,000,000. Isadore Straus, his son and executor, deposed that the estate consisted principally of real estate. The personal estate of Benjamin Guggenheim was assessed at $1,000,000. Isaac Guggenheim, brother and executor, swore that the estate consisted almost entirely of non-taxable securities.

Troops Mobilized in Constantinople

This photograph was taken in the Turkish capital when thousands of troops were mobilized as a result of the news of the successes of the allied Balkan armies. The Yildiz Kiosk, the sultan's palace, is shown on the left, and the famous White Mosque, the place of worship of the Turkish monarch, is shown on the right.

GIRL'S BODY SEVERED

DISMEMBERED PIECES FOUND ON MOUNTAIN SIDE REVEAL TERRIBLE CRIME.

Farmer's Daughter, 18, Is Murdered While on Errand for Father—Excited Peace After Fiends.

Harrison, Ark., Nov. 22.—The dismembered body of 18-year-old Olive Barham, daughter of a farmer residing near Pleasant Ridge, 19 miles east of here, was found scattered on a mountainside by a party of hunters this morning.

The body had been dissected with a saw after the girl had been criminally assaulted. The lower limbs had been cut off, the girl decapitated and the body cut in two.

It is thought the assailants cut up the body to assist them in concealing it. The girl disappeared last night after her father sent her to Pleasant Ridge for his mail.

The murder has created great excitement throughout Boone county, and large possses are searching for the fiends.

CALIFORNIA IN TANGLE

Court Action Serves to Further Mix Up Election Returns.

San Francisco, Nov. 22.—Seventeen days after the national presidential election, the question whether Wilson or Roosevelt carried California was tonight in a worse tangle of legal complications and threatened lawsuits than at any previous time.

Progressive leaders, disappointed by a court decision in Los Angeles invalidating totals for electors in precincts where the election judges had sought to save time and trouble by not putting down tally marks for an elector, except the top one on each ticket, took heart today and demanded that the state supreme court in all the counties of the state which showed a plurality for Wilson.

WOMAN GOLF ENTHUSIAST DIES

Chicago, Nov. 22.—Mrs. Bernard G. Horne, known to golfing enthusiasts as "Betty" Horne, died today of a heart attack while playing golf at her home "Glenview" near Kenilworth, Va. She was 32 years old. Three children survive her.

FRESH OUTBREAKS IN MEXICO

Appeal for 10,000 Federal Troops Has Been Made by State of Chihuahua.

Laredo, Nov. 22.—It was learned here today from reliable sources in Mexico that the administration has been asked to send 10,000 troops to the state of Chihuahua on account of the revolt of rebel activities there, together with an uprising of the Yaqui Indians, who have been at peace for some time.

The request came from Governor Abraham Gonzalez of Chihuahua. Until recently conditions in the state were thought to be much improved and it is known that the railroads contemplate establishing service between Juarez and the City of Chihuahua.

It is not believed that the government can supply as many men as are asked for. The new impetus given the revolution recently, it is said, is largely due to the efforts of Pascual Orozco, Jr., although the erstwhile active leader is reported to be in the state of Coahuila, where he is confined to his bed with a severe attack of rheumatism.

COLLEGE PROFESSOR ARRESTED

Students and Faculty Charged With Election Frauds.

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 22.—Professor L. D. Hall of the faculty of the University of Illinois was arrested here today on an indictment charging perjury in connection with an inquiry into voting by students of the institution at the last election.

Two students were also arrested. They are James Noon, of Everett, Mass., and Walter J. Blum of Chicago. About twenty more indictments are to be heard from.

LABOR FEDERATION TO AID ACCUSED

UNIONS AFFILIATED WITH NATIONAL BODY SOLICITED FOR FUNDS.

Members on Trial at Indianapolis Would Get Assurance of Fair Trial, Is Claim.

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 22.—The American Federation of Labor decided today to ask the unions affiliated with it to raise money for the defense of the alleged dynamiters, who are on trial in Indianapolis.

The resolution adopted by the convention was that delegates to the convention, on their return, advise their international union and local bodies to provide financial aid for the defense of the dynamiters, who are on trial in Indianapolis.

The resolution also urged that the men on trial be "not contained in advance of the decision in their cases be influenced by the alleged fact that certain corporations and a private detective agency are clamoring for a conviction."

It was decided by a vote of 15-7 to 132, more than the two-thirds majority required, to revoke the charter of the International Association of Steam and Hot Water Fitters and Helpers, delegates from which were denied seats in the convention last week.

The convention also refused to take any action in the dispute between factions of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and reaffirmed its decision that only the faction affiliated with the federation is legal.

Other resolutions adopted favor the initiative, referendum and recall, including the recall of judges; popular election of United States senators; workmen's compensation with the retention of employers' liabilities; old age pensions and the repeal or amendment of the Sherman anti-trust law to prevent the prosecution of labor unions under its provisions.

Andrew J. Gallagher, representative of the California State Federation of Labor, raised the question of popular aid to the men on trial in Indianapolis, recommending that the balance in the McNamara defense fund be devoted to the defense of the Indianapolis defendants. This was rejected, the money in question is in the custody of the McNamara defense committee and therefore not at the disposal of the federation.

The convention will elect officers at 5 o'clock tomorrow. Max S. Hayes of Cleveland, a member of the International Typographical Union, is to oppose President Gompers for re-election. William H. Johnston of Providence, president of the International Association of Machinists, is to oppose the third vice president, James O'Connell, former president of the Machinists union. Other officers have no opposition.

Snow At El Paso

El Paso, Nov. 22.—Snow fell last night between El Paso and Sanderson in several places. Where it did not snow, a cold wet rain fell. Cattle suffering from the rain were improved. On the level country the snow melted as fast as it fell, but in the mountains it was several inches deep this morning.

SCHRANK IS INSANE

WOULD BE ASSASSIN OF COL. ROOSEVELT COMMITTED TO ASYLUM.

Five Alienists Reach Unanimous Decision—Prisoner Declares He Is Not Lunatic, and Never Was.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 22.—John Schrank, who shot Col. Theodore Roosevelt on the night of October 14 at Milwaukee, is insane, and was late this afternoon committed by Municipal Judge A. C. Backus to the Northern hospital for the insane near Oshkosh.

Before being led back to jail to await preparations for the trip to the asylum, Schrank said:

"I had expected they would find me insane, because it was in the papers two days ago. I want to say now that I am sane and know what I am doing all the time. I am not a lunatic and never was one. I was called upon to do a duty and have done it. The commission has sworn away my life. Each member went upon the stand and said I was incurably insane. They can bury me alive if they see fit. I don't care what happens now."

Commitment was pronounced following the presentation of an exhaustive report by a commission of five alienists in which the defendant was unanimously adjudged insane and following the introduction of prima facie evidence of several witnesses.

Questioned as to whether the defendant had anything to offer, Attorney James G. Flanders, following a long conversation with Schrank, informed the court that the defendant had nothing to say.

Decision Unanimous.

District Attorney Zabel submitted a number of questions bearing upon medical testimony which were asked of each of which brought forth similar responses, the substance of which being that Schrank was suffering from chronic paranoia and all of the physicians agreed that it was doubtful if the disease could be cured.

Failure in effecting a cure of Schrank's mental disorder means that he will spend the rest of his life in the asylum to which he has been ordered committed.

Schrank probably will be taken to the asylum on Monday next, according to Sheriff William A. Arnold.

M'VEAGH "EXCUSES" EMPLOYEE

Gideon C. Bantz, for Forty Years in Treasury Department, Resigns. Succeeded by C. S. Pearce.

Washington, Nov. 22.—Gideon C. Bantz, connected with the treasury department for forty years, resigned as assistant treasurer of the United States today at the request of Secretary MacVeagh. He will be succeeded tomorrow by Christian S. Pearce, chief of the division of banks, loans and postal savings.

Secretary MacVeagh said the change was made because Mr. Bantz was not in sympathy with his administrative policies.

Mr. Bantz, it was announced, will be offered some other position in the treasury department.

News of the resignation became public almost simultaneously with the swearing in of Carmel A. Thompson, as treasurer to succeed Lee McClung, announcement of whose resignation a few days ago gave rise to rumors that the secretary and treasurer were out of sympathy.

All reports of a further upheaval in the treasury's office were set at rest by Secretary MacVeagh with the statement that he contemplated no more changes.

SEVEN OF FAMILY ARRESTED

Texas Farmer and Sons Placed in Jail in Connection With Death of Negro.

Franklin, Nov. 22.—Joe Fulton and his six sons, residents of a farm six miles west of here, today were arrested charged with killing an aged negro living near their farm.

After being placed in the county jail the men were given an examining trial. All gave bond for their appearance before the grand jury in January.

Modern Woodmen Restrained in Illinois

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 22.—Holding the new rates adopted by the head camp of the Modern Woodmen to be burdensome and unnecessary, Judge Robert Shirley today granted a perpetual injunction restraining the head camp from putting the rates into effect and also restraining the officers from declaring certain any member refusing to pay the new rates. The injunction is effective everywhere.

Fined $5 For Insulting Woman

Newport News, Va., Nov. 22.—A verdict of guilty was returned yesterday in the trial of Joseph J. Zarza, clerk in the Cuban consulate, charged with assault and battery upon Mrs. Charles S. Brom, wife of a local draftsman. As punishment, a fine of $5 was imposed.

SUFFRAGISTS IN FIRST CONTEST

WESTERN DELEGATES SCORE A VICTORY AT NATIONAL SUFFRAGE CONVENTION.

WOMEN LISTEN TO MENS' TALKS

Male Visitors Cite Benefits of Broadened Ballot Rights—Mrs. Belmont Gets Big Demonstration.

Philadelphia, Nov. 22.—Through the defeat of a constitutional amendment providing that the delegates present from each state or affiliated organization shall cast the full vote to which that state or organization is entitled, provided at least one-fifth of the delegates are present, delegates from the western states were victors today in the first contest that has developed in the Woman's National Suffrage convention.

Practically the entire day was devoted to a spirited discussion of the proposed amendment, the western delegates generally supporting Miss Jane Addams in opposing it. Those from a majority of the eastern states upheld President Anna Shaw, who favored its adoption.

Other important amendments, action on which, however, was deferred, provided that the headquarters of the national association shall not remain permanently in New York, and that no officer or member shall take part in partisan politics except in states where equal suffrage exists.

The appearance on the platform of Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont of New York started enthusiastic cheering. She was introduced as "the woman who was much for her sex that she had gone to the night court in New York to furnish bail for defenseless girls and who is one of the greatest friends to the cause of woman's suffrage."

Men Got Hearing.

Tonight's meeting was given over exclusively to men advocates of equal rights for women. A. S. G. Taylor, one of the two men delegates to the convention, declared that woman's suffrage is a man's question just as much as it is a woman's.

Reginald Wright Kauffman, a native Pennsylvanian who now resides in England, made a strong plea for what he termed the "most oppressed women in the world—the women who are popularly called 'white slaves.'"

"I do not for a minute pretend that white slavery is going to be ended in a day by giving women the vote," said Mr. Kauffman, "but I am here to maintain that it will not be ended until, in every sense, women have been made the social and political equals of men."

Other speakers included Jesse Lynch Williams, of Illinois and the Rev. James G. Mythen of Baltimore.

PROSECUTOR ATTACKS CARUSO

Long Arguments Delay Bringing End to Textile Murder Trials—May Conclude by Monday.

Salem, Mass., Nov. 22.—More delay in bringing to an end the trial of Etto Caruso, Giovanni and Caruso for the Lonzio murder in the Lawrenceville textile strike, today when the court adjourned tonight with District Attorney Attwell's closing argument not completed. It is possible Judge Quinn will not charge the jury until Monday.

In his argument today the district attorney dwelt chiefly on Caruso's connection with the case, attacking the defendant's alibi. The state's witnesses, he said, must be regarded as perjurers by the jury, if Caruso's alibi is believed.

Speaking of illegal assembly with particular reference to the time of the killing, the district attorney declared that the highways could not be used by one set in a community to carry on a warfare against another set.

"If we have proved," he said, "that the defendant Caruso was in that crowd, he is as guilty as the man who pulled the trigger of the revolver, and the case all we have to do to establish the murder is to show that someone of that crowd discharged the pistol that killed Anna Lonzio."

HOTEL BONUS NOW $20,000

ENERGETIC MEN OF WACO TRAMP MUDDY STREETS ON PATRIOTIC SERVICE FOR TOWN.

TEAM RACE IS KEEN

CAUFIELD AND MARSHALL NIP AND TUCK FOR HONORS.

BUSCH PEOPLE GIVE $1000

There Are Many Subscribers—Noble Luncheons by the Ladies Are Fine—More Work Today.

With the receipt of a telegram by Isadore Friedlander yesterday from G. H. Luedde, now in St. Louis, announcing that August A. Busch & Co. would subscribe $1000 to the hotel bonus, the total so far subscribed reached $20,705.

The teams were out yesterday early for the work of the day. They made a close search for those who would give and took anything offered them, from $5 up. As it is now, the subscriptions run from $5 to $1500, with quite a number at $50 each.

So far the E. W. Marshall team is the leading one in the canvass, but T. A. Caufield is working hard to try to catch him. He said last night that he had made up the distance between the two and that unless Marshall and his fellows swing in hard and fast this forenoon that he will have the banner team at noon today. There was less than $500 between the two teams yesterday at noon when the report was made.

This morning there will be no prescribed territory except that which hitherto has been assigned to teams No. 3 and No. 4. These two have been prevented from working as they wanted to, and they are allowed to keep their territory and clean it up.

Caufield and Marshall have called meetings of their teams for 6 o'clock this morning and the tug of war will start. It will be like tag day when these fellows get on the street, and they will try every by-way and hedge in the city. Every man is to be approached. Turkey dinner, other teams will be busy, but the rivalry is keen between the two and it is to be a cut and slash game with the team captains. It may be that a $5 subscription will win the team, but two, and then again, Dr. Dean, Alex Sanger, Will Edmond, W. J. Mitchell or John P. Wright may pull up close to the leaders and be contenders for the honor. Turkey dinner will be given free seats at the banquet to be given when the new hotel is opened.

Good Dinner by the Ladies.

But the banquet which will be given at the time the new hotel is opened, as was a dinner at that served yesterday by the ladies. No better meal ever was put before a lot of tired men, and when these canvassers—these men who have been tramping muddy streets in the city's interest—were invited into that dining hall at the Y. M. C. A. rooms and were invited to partake of turkey and all good things which go with a good turkey dinner, they accepted readily. The ladies who served were Mesdames E. P. Drake, E. W. Marshall, Frank Trau, W. W. Pryor, Scott Hill, C. M. Clabbe, Will Edmond and S. J. Berry. Turkey was never better cooked—and it is understood several of these good wives were the cooks—and coffee never more steaming hot. E. P. Drake did the carving.

Speeches.

There were several speeches of encouragement. Mr. Bolton, chairman of the central committee, was called on after Rev. E. E. Ingram had asked a blessing, and the reports were made. He looked about him a moment and then said that more earnest work had never been done, and he believed it is effectual. He said he believed the people realize the need for a hotel and that they were willing to put up the bonus and that another day would show results near the total desired.

Louis Miel spoke a few words of encouragement and the reports were made. He complimented A. D. Adams, proprietor of two hotels, and C. M. Hubby, who owns a hotel, on their public-spirited work for Waco in going out with the canvassing committee. The noon luncheon today promises to be a big thing. It will be at the Y. M. C. A. rooms and will be at 12 o'clock sharp.

Following a session during which a number of important matters were considered, the board of education of the Baptist correlated school system of Texas adjourned at noon yesterday, to meet again about the middle of January, by which time it is believed that the $20,000 for which a campaign has been launched for clearing the body of all indebtedness, will have been raised.

One of the chief actions taken by the body was the re-election of Dr. A. J. Barton as corresponding secretary at the same salary on which he has served for the past year. At the same time the members of the board who reside in Waco were made the executive committee of the body, these members being S. P. Brooks, C. K. Durham, F. C. McConnell, P. J. Harrell, F. S. Groner, J. P. Wright, J. R. Collier, W. D. Boswell, R. B. Spencer and J. M. Dawson.

One action taken by the board on recommendation of Dr. Barton was to relieve Baylor university of the necessity of furnishing annually $1800 for the general expense fund of the board.

Dr. Barton's recommendation that $2000 be given annually to the Southern Baptist Theological seminary for ministerial education was favorably acted upon by the board.

The following resolution was passed: "That it is desirable that a law be passed at the next legislature of Texas that will recognize the junior colleges in Texas, and that will enable such standard junior colleges as may prove themselves worthy to the state board of examiners to secure for students in said junior colleges certificates, who shall do the regular five courses provided under the present law for students in standard first grade colleges."

"That the secretary of this board be requested to communicate with State Superintendent Bralley concerning the revision of the present law as above indicated, requesting him to recommend such revision to the Texas legislature at its next session."

"That the members of the board use every legitimate means with their respective representatives in order to secure the recognition sought for by these junior colleges."

"That the presidents of first grade colleges, junior colleges and other educational institutions in Texas be invited to co-operate with us in securing this just and much needed legislation."

President S. P. Brooks of Baylor, T. G. Harris and Secretary Barton were appointed on the committee to bring this matter to the attention of the proper authorities for definite action.

Dr. Barton was authorized, in company with the members of the board of trustees, to organize a campaign for raising money for the Palacios Academy.

TEST OF NEW AUTO PUMP

City Officials Try the Webb Equipment, and It Is Satisfactory, Is Report.

There was a test yesterday of the new automobile combination pump and hose carriage, recently purchased from the Webb people by the city, and it was in every way satisfactory to the officials who conducted it.

At 4 o'clock Chief Prescott, Assistant Chief Eugene Trott, Fire Commissioner John F. Wright and Mr. Lucy of the Webb company, went to Cotton Palace Park for the test. Steamer "A. M. Prescott" from No. 3 station was on the scene, in order that a comparison could be made between the work of the steamer and the work of the auto pump. The water thrown was pumped from the creek running through the grounds just above the dam. First there were two streams shown horizontally by the auto pump, indicating that the pump would lift the water from below, and that the discharge was satisfactory. Then the steamer was started up and the streams were thrown side by side to show the effect and in this it was satisfactory. Next the stream from the steamer was thrown directly overhead and a stream from the auto pump. Every man there agreed that the auto pump threw the steam higher than the steamer.

It was a good test, and Commissioner Wright and the fire chief were well satisfied.

FARMERS LOSE FIRST CONTEST

Kansas Aggies Scatter Gloom With Paddle and Capture Prize by Score of 13 to 10.

College Station, Nov. 22.—There is gloom on the campus tonight, because the Kansas Aggies took the game from the Farmers today, it being the first defeat for the Texas boys since the season opened. Luck was against the Farmers, and although they made a strong fight for the score, they lost on two plays, of which the visitors took advantage. Kyle field was deep in mud after the heavy rain, but the boys did not mind that. The entire cadet corps was on the ground cheering and the band kept up good music all through. The officers of the college were out in force and hundreds of people came from Bryan.

The Farmers had every right to win. They outplayed the Kansas team at every point. Kansas developed no new style of play and in fact did not go beyond end runs in an effort to gain ground. Not once did the Kansas team try the forward pass. Just before the close of the first quarter there was a fumble by the Farmers and the Kansas Aggies scored. But this did not lose the game, and the Farmers played pluckily, but within two minutes of the close of the game, the Aggies interrupted a forward pass and scored again. The result of the game was 13 to 10 in favor of Kansas.

STATE IS TO "CLEAN UP" TOWN

Texas Health Officer With Aid of Outsider, Plans to Improve Conditions at Thurber.

Austin, Nov. 22.—State Health Officer Ralph Steiner and Pure Food and Dairy Commissioner J. S. Abbott had an extended conference today with Dr. Thomas Darlington of New York City with regard to a campaign for cleanliness and healthfulness to be waged at Thurber, Erath county, where there are extensive mining interests. Dr. Darlington is a leading figure in many health campaigns in the east, and he comes to Texas to improve conditions at Thurber and make it a model town. He represents the owners of the mines, Edgar L. Marston and others.

On account of recent illness there, the mine owners propose a health campaign. Commissioner Abbott was given assurance that the water supply, dairies, slaughter houses and bakeries would be put in good sanitary condition better even than the state requires and that Thurber will be made a model place from a health standpoint. Dr. Darlington also said that the old houses, which the mine employees have used are being done away with and that modern structures are being put in their stead. The company houses between 1900 and 1906 and housing conditions will be improved entirely.

TO SELL RED CROSS STAMPS

FOR WHITE PLAGUE FUND

Red Cross stamps will be placed on sale at many of the downtown stores immediately and arrangements will be made later to sell them from a booth in the postoffice building, and a committee will call upon the picture show exhibitors to induce them to show a slide between each film until Christmas.

Thus the Waco district of the anti-Tuberculosis Association will launch a campaign to raise funds to battle the terrible plague, according to a meeting held at the library yesterday at which District Chairman Mrs. F. J. Lennox presided.

Mrs. Fred Robinson was elected vice-chairman; Mrs. Edgar Wilt, secretary, and Mrs. T. W. Robertson, treasurer, and Mrs. Lennox will appoint a committee to wait on the merchants.

The picture show exhibitors have all agreed to assist the association and the slides will be shown in all of the nickel shows today. Later many of the exhibitors expect to secure illustrated films.

The plan of selling Red Cross stamps at the postoffice building from a booth has been suggested to the association and if arrangements can be satisfactorily made the stamps will be for sale there during the two weeks preceding Christmas.

As stated in the Morning News Monday, the funds thus raised will be spent to provide a demonstration car to be equipped and used to tour the state in the interests of educating people to take steps to prevent the further spread of tuberculosis. In many states this plan has been successfully carried out with satisfactory results.

Waco took second place in the sale of Red Cross stamps last Christmas and if the campaign started by Mrs. Lennox comes near fulfilling expectations double the number of Red Cross stamps will be sold in Waco this year.

FORMER WACOMAN KILLS SELF

Dr. L. B. Slaughter Fires Bullet into His Brain in Office at Fort Worth—Known Here.

Fort Worth, Nov. 22.—Worry, due to business depression, caused Dr. L. B. Slaughter, pioneer physician, to fire a shot into his brain Friday at 8:45 a. m., and fifteen minutes later his lifeless body was found in his private office, 1610 1/2 Main street.

On a table a few feet from where the body lay when found by Clarence Adams, a clerk in Walkup's drug store, were two letters and a note. One letter was addressed to his wife, the other to Charles W. Foster, 701 West Third street, and the note to whoever should find his body. The letter to Mr. Foster said that worry over loss of practice and depreciation of property he owned had driven him almost crazy; that it was impossible for him to sleep at nights and he was afraid he would lose his mind.

In his pocket were $90 in bills, $4 in silver and a receipt for a year's dues in the Junior Order of United American Mechanics, Council No. 2. He was medical examiner for the order and it is said carried some life insurance with it.

Dr. Slaughter was 54 years old and was born in Waco. He was the son of W. W. Slaughter, brother of C. R. Slaughter, 1314 North Thirtieth street, and of Mrs. T. E. Hubby and Mrs. Dee Cook. He was graduated from Columbia College, New York, with the class of 1882, and came direct to Fort Worth, where he began practicing his profession. In 1884 he was married to Miss Anna Bailey, who, with a son and daughter survive him. Miss Margaret, a teacher in the Seventh district public school, is the daughter, and Lee Slaughter, a student at the A. & M. College, College Station, is the son.

At the time of his death, Dr. Slaughter owned property at 1901 Fairmount avenue, on Weaver street, and a vacant lot in Glenwood. He also, with his son, owned an orange farm near Houston. The family resides at 1901 Fairmount.

BIRTHS OUTNUMBER DEATHS.

Texas Statistics Show 56 Sets of Twins Born During October.

Austin, Nov. 22.—The vital statistics report for the month of October shows 4737 births and 1945 deaths for the state, a decrease of 179 deaths as compared with October, 1911, and an increase of 428 births as compared with that month. Fifty-six sets of twins, an increase of nineteen sets over September and of twenty-five sets over October, 1911, are shown. There also were two sets of triplets born.

From pellagra eighteen deaths were reported, a decrease of four as compared with October, 1911, and an increase of three over September, 1911. Tuberculosis was the leading cause of death, with 168 victims, but showed a decrease of seventy-five as compared with the corresponding month a year ago. There were reported eighteen suicides, three accidental drownings, fifty-one accidental deaths and thirteen murders. There was a legal hanging in Grayson county. One woman died from a spider bite and one man from the hookworm disease. Deaths of infants showed an increase, there being 374 to die under one year, an increase of twenty-four over September.

A negro woman died in Smith county at the age of 111 years; a white man in Gonzales county at 102 and a white man in Harris county at 97.

CLUB WOMEN CLOSE MEETING

PASS MANY RESOLUTIONS, SOME AVOID STRENUOUSNESS OF FUTURE.

3 CITIES AFTER 1913 MEET

Conclusion Marks Notable Gathering. Executive Board Will Select Next Place in Spring.

Fort Worth, Nov. 22.—With enthusiastic expressions of appreciation for the way in which the Fort Worth women entertained visiting women, the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs adjourned Thursday at 1:30 p. m. Corpus Christi, Abilene and Sherman extended invitations to the assembly for the federation to meet with their club women next year.

The executive board will select a place of meeting at the council meeting next spring. These invitations will be given precedence over invitations that might come to the board members later.

"We have never before been more royally entertained than we have been here in Fort Worth," said Mrs. Eli Hertzberg in her closing address. "Henceforth the name of your city will be a synonym for hospitality to Texas club women."

Want Less Work.

In the midst of the strenuousness of the resolution session that for two hours adjournment kept the strict attention of the federation, Mrs. R. E. Buchanan, started a movement for the reform of federation management that permits such a rush and strain of activity at the close of the annual convention. This movement met with enthusiastic response from the harassed club women in the convention and it is probable that no other federation meeting in Texas will close with the nerve-racking session that preceded adjournment today.

Mrs. Buchanan recommended the incorporation of regular resolutions or recommendations in the reports of the standing committees having the matters resolved upon in charge. This will cause the adoption of these resolutions when the regular committee reports are adopted. This system will have only the emergency resolutions for the closing session.

After the invocation by Rabbi George Fox and the reading of the minutes this morning, an attempt was made to take up the regular program. It was unsuccessful because nearly all those on the program were absent.

Mrs. E. L. Burton of McKinney, president of the Second district, made the first talk of the morning, advocating the concentration of the women's efforts on some one or two things. She also advised that the delegates be given more time at the state and district meetings.

Message to Mrs. Moore.
On motion of Mrs. H. S. Fall of Houston, the secretary was instructed to send a message of greeting from the convention to Mrs. Philip N. Moore of St. Louis.

Dr. W. A. Jarrell of Dallas was introduced and told the women something of the work of the World's Purity Federation. The greatest humanitarian work to be done today, he said, is the construction of a social quarantine by education. He advised alliance of the church and women's clubs. He asked them to pass a resolution asking the next legislature to pass a law requiring a medical certificate before marriage. He was liberally applauded.

Publicity for New Law.
Mrs. Hortense Ward, an attorney of Houston, emphasized the necessity of publicity to get the law for women's property rights.

The proposed law would cause the greatest change ever made in Texas property rights. About 10 per cent of husbands cause their wives and children to suffer because of the Texas law, she said.

"Talk to everyone that you see about it," she said. "Do everything you can, for the law is for your sister, if not for you."

She told of the work that has been done. All the lawyers and bankers are for it. More than 1,000 newspapers have been aiding the work.

"It's up to us to get this bill enacted into a law," she concluded.

No Constitution Report.
Mrs. George H. Collins of Greenville, announced that the revised constitution committee had no report to make, and her report was dropped.

At the suggestion of Mrs. Joseph Dibrell, the secretary was instructed to send a message of sympathy to Mrs. M. W. Simms of Bryan, who was absent from the meeting on account of illness in the family.

In the final settlement of endowment fund subscriptions, Mrs. J. C. Terrell reported a deficit in the Texas subscription of $44. About $53 was collected in ten minutes. On motion of Mrs. Terrell, the balance over $44 was redited to the state endowment fund.

This timely suggestion of Mrs. Terrell's caused her to be appointed chairman of the state endowment fund. Mrs. Terrell will have the assistance of a committee secretary.

Resolutions Passed.
Resolutions were passed on the following subjects: Compulsory education, special school tax, women on boards of educational institutions; educational buildings at state fairs; schools as social centers, national music in schools, indorsement of traveling state libraries, tree planting, trophy from Robert Lee Costan to best cared for fire station in state, change Arbor Day to optional date, make March 10 state clean-up day, preservation of wild flowers on railway right-of-way, recommendation to convert Palo Duro canyon into national park, indorse Lever agricultural extension bill, indorse humane law support and early Christmas shopping, put Donald Lowrie's book, "My Life in Prison," in the hands of state legislators, indorse world peace movement, better laws for women and children, resolution to create demand for better drama, to incorporate prize literary compositions on fine arts program, recommendation to convert abandoned military posts into anti-tuberculosis sanitariums, Texas federation inaugurate system of credential cards, reforms in press, indorse work of national hygiene organization, support state charities and corrections commission, fire, prevention, bird preservation, acceptance of hospitalities and favors.

The citizens of Waco are offering a bonus of $50,000 to any company that will build another new hotel in that city. Waco has found that big hotels are big boosters for town or city.—Tyler Courier-Times.

"Another new hotel"? Thank you, Mr.

"Prospect"? Don't you mean mirage?

If Uncle Samuel's general revenues must be counted before Treasurer Thompson can succeed Treasurer McCullum and the counting will require two months, in how much less than twenty-four hours could someone succeed Treasurer Joe Edwards at Austin on the same basis?

Senorita Bori thinks that American women have more temperance than Spanish women, but better manners. Therein we learn that manners are not impossible with temperance where formerly we only knew that mannerisms were its principal concomitant.

If "voices from the grave" are to figure in this Sneed trial, it occurs to us that rather a ghastly quartette could be assembled with the victims of the killings at Fort Worth, Georgetown and Amarillo.

And Cone Johnson was fined $100 for repeating a question Judge Swayne had excluded. We hope Cone has a generous allowance for "incidentals" with his fee.

The Socialists were defeated two to one in the American Federation of Labor's vote on the radical wing's proposition to adopt the principle of industrial unionism in place of the policy of trade autonomy. Which proves that the American Federation of Labor is a federation of labor.

With Congressmen Beall and Shepherd the only "boss" advocates of the postmastership primary in Texas, we judge that the congressional delegation is not dismayed by the prospect of disappointing several thousand office seekers.

We would be interested in a description of the present procedure of women's clubs in Tyler from the pen of the editor who suggests the ladies of that city organize a "clean language club."

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram editorializes on "how Serbian women dress." The gentleman must be a brilliant cosmopolite. Nine out of ten editors are unfamiliar with the details of that process among the fair of our own land.

"The Disagreeable Man."—Bernard Shaw.

MR. McCOLLUM.

Not to the citizens of Waco alone, of whom he has been an unofficial public servant for more than a score of years, but to the citizenship of Texas and to the press of this and other Southern States, will the announcement that the name of A. R. McCollum will be presented for the postmastership of this city bring pleasure, and very general will be the opinion that here is proper recognition of long and invaluable personal and professional services to the community wherein he thus may be especially honored.

To detail the record of Mr. McCollum's service as editor of the Waco Tribune, and his connection with other Waco newspapers for some thirty years, would be merely to dwell on knowledge possessed in every home, office and business place here, and to emphasize the estimate of this veteran journalist in every newspaper sanctum in this great State. He is "dean and Nestor of Texas press." It would be rather to belittle the intelligence of Waco's dwellers to try to number the occasions when this man has served his city as counselor, worker and fighter for all that is best in civic progress and cleanliness. A. R. McCollum is a Texan known over Texas as a good man and able, conscientious and serviceable to the State. He is so known in the State House at Austin and in the workingman's home in Waco.

A postmastership is not always wholly a reward for political service, although Mr. McCollum has in late years been a field worker in politics. His is a plain-spoken, honorable editorial service for the party of his life-long alliance, and his influence and the value of his service is recognized. Nor is this wholly an appointment of friendship, close as have been the editor and Representative Henry for nearly eighteen years. The congressman from this district naturally is desirous of naming for important federal office a citizen of his home city who will honor the place; of making a recommendation for appointment that will be commended by all, for all have an interest in the proper direction of this big postoffice. Mr. McCollum will honor the place. The State hopes he will be appointed and that he will accept. This is glad tidings for Waco.

CARNEGIE'S LATEST.

Dispatches of Thursday night concerning the announcement of the Carnegie corporation that future ex-presidents and the widows of ex-presidents are to receive respectively, from this great corporation, a "pension" of $25,000 a year so long as former president and widow "remain unprovided for by the government" and the widow remains unmarried, are disappointingly meager in detail. Undoubtedly the real "innards" of this interesting proposal (and offer) will be exploited over the wires in a day or less, but there is enough meat in the first account to justify some notice—and we predict that not only editors, but paragraphs the country over will have rare sport today with the "stay single" restriction in the pension to widows offer. There is some excuse for such sport.

No Midas, no Croesus, no Carnegie needs seek advertising—his money will not merely talk, it will orate, and its utterances will have first page preference with every newspaper in this generation. At first notice—and surely on examination—there appears a deal of public-spirited merit in this offer of the Laird's corporation. The grant, it is related, "is provided with the idea of enabling former executives of the nation to devote knowledge gained in public affairs to the public good, free from pecuniary care."

Disregarding the context of that explanation, we assume The Associated Press writer meant that the former executive in this devotion of his ardently acquired knowledge is to be freed of such care, for we doubt if the public good ever will be so blessed. There is nothing said as to what the widows of former executives must do to receive the $25,000 annuity, and mention is made of only one thing they must not do—get married. So we may dismiss these few and fine widows, for the nonce. Since the pension is to be granted futures only, as loyal Democrats we need not grieve that Mrs. Cleveland would remove herself from its benefits by her alliance with the undoubting Thomas.

There are numerous high-minded and generous features in connection with this offer, and it is not ours to say that the offer itself is other than high-minded, though its terms and effect appear rather inexplicable at this writing. It will be interesting to know how the ex-president (and we will have two of this remarkable class on March 4) is to "spend the latter part of his life devoting his rather unique knowledge gained of the public affairs to the public good, free from pecuniary cares." Anything that will redound to the public weal is commendable, and any plan that will subserve this end is patriotic—well worth twenty-five, fifty, seventy-five thousands a year, assuming we are ever so fortunate as to have three living "Ex's" contemporaneously; so remarkable a trio as Messrs. Roosevelt, Taft and Wilson, for example. Governments annually waste many times that last sum on doubtful works and countless "investigations."

No Poor Presidents.

Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt stand in no need of money, nor will Mr. Wilson, we think, when he retires from presidential office be overlord or overthrown to use his brain toward providing a respectable competence for his family. It is doubtful if there ever will be elected to the nation's highest office a man for whom the same would not obtain. We cannot see how such a man could reach that stage of prominence demanded of presidential candidates without some measure of financial success and stamina to make a good living. Doubtless Mr. Carnegie proposes the former president shall devote all his time to applying his officially-acquired knowledge to the public welfare, and that $25,000 a year is to be the care-free compensation therefor. It is very fair compensation, and should be a very successful care-reliever and an incentive to constant and helpful devotion of such knowledge.

Doubtless, too, an ex-president is fitted to advise, direct and assist along any of the more important lines of federal governmental activity, for performance he has dealt with them all during his incumbency. He has recommended investigations, special inquiries, laws, repeals, conservation—mayhap acquisition of territory. He has seen policies flourish and fade and has been responsible for both conditions. Just how does the Carnegie corporation propose he shall direct his knowledge? As an adviser of the government—and how is that to be arranged?—as a writer to public prints, for there must be some method of this devotion of knowledge prescribed. We can conceive of so many ways an ex-president's advice and assistance would be invaluable to incumbents of the government and to public institutions, popular rights and the commonwealth generally, it is really needless to enter into particulars.

The nation will await with undiminished interest, then, the specific plan of the corporation, if it has one. It is a big question, a big opportunity and a fine-natured offer. That the pension is to be tendered former presidents and the widows of such without their asking is one of the best features of the plan. And we doubt if the future history of the nation will develop many retired presidents who will avail themselves of this fund, or their widows who will be obliged to accept the pension, or want to. We doubt if any president will ever bring his personal affairs to such a state that acceptance will be necessary, either for himself or his survivor. And with the example of the noble Mrs. Cleveland in mind, women fitted to be the wives of presidents will not consider an annual pension of $25,000—when love intrudes.

But in every respect, any plan that predicates devotion to "the public good" needs must be applauded as a good plan and worthy. Without further specifications, it must be said that any plan having as its object the freedom of a man to serve the people, unexacted by the necessity of earning his own living meanwhile, is broadly philanthropic and worthy commendation of the whole nation it seeks to benefit.

It will be money well expended, and we are eager to know just how it is to be earned.

WHY CAMPAIGN SO MUCH?

To the proposal of Senator Gore that the government pay the cost of presidential and congressional campaigning, with an allowance of, say, 15 cents per voter in presidential campaigns and 10 cents per voter in biennial congressional campaigns, the allotment to be based on the votes cast for each party's electors in the preceding election, already there have been offered objections that go to the very root of the argument and, we think, dispose of its value utterly.

Among these objections, there has been generally stressed the fact that such a plan will result in giving the ruling party a powerful advantage by the possession of a much larger fund—and while we are extremely desirous of continuing the Democracy dominant at Washington, we cannot subscribe to the fairness of this handicap. To be sure, it is quite within the bounds of probability that the other "old" party will recuperate and again grow strong, although it will be the effort of the coming administration to enlist the support of voters of every sort of former alliance; it is quite probable, and rather expected, that the Progressives will be appreciably stronger in 1916 and the Socialists will increase. Whether these other party's gains would be sufficient to add to their "government campaign fund" at a rate that would offset the initial advantage of the ruling Democracy is entirely a speculation, and an interesting one. We do not believe that merely starting the Democracy with $1,000,000, the Progressives with $600,000 and the Republicans with $500,000 to prosecute the campaign of 1916 would materially detract from the power of the less-funded parties four years hence, for we cannot conceive how the half-million dollars would sway the electorate and swing the election, if the record of the Wilson administration's achievement and honesty were not a sterling one. In the first instance.

Of course, there will be campaign contributions by interests and individuals with whole stocks of axes to grind as long as individual contributions are permitted. Mr. Wilson's position, that small contributions from many rather than large contributions from comparatively few will do most to stimulate and hold interest in the campaign, and will dissipate much of the suspicion attaching to large contributions, is the best and most statesmanly solution for future activity that has been offered, coupled, of course, with the enforcement of a federal statute limiting the amount of contributions—a limitation advocated by the Democracy as early as 1904. We think Congress can never be brought to subscription to a plan demanding that government revenues be devoted to political campaigning. And the fact that under the Gore bill, so proposed, the Democratic party would be assured of the monetary advantage, whatever it be worth, for at least one more election, would be susceptible to every sort of misconception, suspicion and abuse, both without the party and by many thinkers and conservative theorists within it.

Swollen Funds.
The revelations of the congressional investigations of campaign funds in the past four years, and the nationwide knowledge of the exposed corruption of elections and of officers by corporate support, are tending surely toward a demand not only for a limited total that may be expended on any campaign and a limit of individual contributions, but toward a demand that the campaign itself be restricted—this in the interests of business, economy and honesty of government, to do away with the interference with trade conditions that inevitably attends a presidential campaign, although the late campaign, and the victorious party, was wonderfully blessed by a singular absence of this condition. There is, beyond doubt, a growing demand for "less campaigning;" there is a certain tendency to revert to the days when there were fewer speeches, less traveling by presidential candidates, less disturbance in the nation's affairs every four years. There were, to be sure, fewer cities, parties and issues in those days, but the principle in effect is unchanged. Surely it is conceded the powerful, nation-reaching press of this age will disseminate the best utterances of the candidates for high national office; that there will be public officers and leaders of thought in any community ready and eager to hold forth locally in the interests of their party's standard bearers, and that the nation reads as sanely as it listens. A harking back to the days of "front porch" campaigning will never be altogether possible, but we think there is a possibility of limiting the campaign somewhat and that local advocacy is altogether possible, effective and expedient to a great extent.

Not only would we recommend that the total and the individual contribution in campaign funds be restricted, but that the duration and extent of campaigns be curtailed, in the interests of honesty, fairness and the continuation of quiet peace in the nation's business, effecting discontinuance of the quadrennial political spasms that is destroying its original purpose.

Judge Swayne's remarks on searching Sneed trial spectators indicate he was forewarned for armed.

Texas Viewpoints

Moderation.

The result of the recent national election not only renders Col. William J. Bryan the biggest figure within the Democratic party, but it amply vindicates the position assumed by that gentleman at the Baltimore convention.—El Paso Times.

Just why the biggest figure, and just why the uniqueness of Mr. Bryan's position at Baltimore? There have been so many "hail to the chief" projectiles Bryan-ward in Texas, lately, that the average Democrat's curiosity is aroused, as well it might be. We think Mr. Wilson is the biggest figure in the Democratic party, incomparably; that Mr. Bryan's fight at Baltimore was a good fight, but not legitimate subject of the unrestrained use of superlatives along any line; we think Mr. Bryan had everything to gain and nothing to lose, that he was fighting with his back to the wall and that such fighting, though it may be heroic, is enforced fighting; we know that Mr. Wilson did what Mr. Bryan thrice failed to do; we know that properly endured through Mr. Wilson's campaign and that trade was stagnant whenever Mr. Bryan campaigned, and that Mr. Bryan is not responsible for this persistence of prosperity; we do not recall that Mr. Wilson was guided by the advice of Mr. Bryan, and we know that he won on his merits. We are reminded that a mass of intelligent Democrats believe the party did infinitely more for Mr. Bryan, personally, than Mr. Bryan has done for the party. Finally, we credit the Texas delegation and the voters of Texas with Mr. Wilson's nomination—the loyalty and consistency of the Texas delegation, no less. Why, then, is Bryan the biggest figure within the party?

Curious Praise.

The Greeks maintain that the climate of Texas is not much unlike that of Greece, and they still the homestead calls for the fatherland in the interests of earning a livelihood in the new land.—Abilene Reporter.

The above is a reminder. To be sure, the Greek came to America, sometimes obtained citizenship, found means of livelihood and some of him prospered and waxed fat. Some of the prosperous and fatted has returned to Greece to fight in this Turkish war, taking his American fat with him. There is a deal of promiscuous praise for his courage and patriotism in "answering the call of the fatherland." If the courage is not enforced obedience to the demand for his return as a reservist, the praise is proper. But if he is an American citizen—just what brand of patriotism is this? Is not his duty, his allegiance to America? We are glad that the climate of Texas suits the Greek and reminds him of "home," and wonder whether he will like it quite as well when he makes his pile here, but we would find more cause for rejoicing if every foreign immigrant in Texas, and every other State, could conceive the broader patriotism that his duty and his efforts should be dedicated to the land that gives him his daily bread and bed. This is a splendid nation for the reservist, for the sojourner for gain that he can expend, and enjoy—"in the fatherland." This spirit helps America wonderfully, does it not? It does—

Valuable Tip.

Footlights have been omitted from a new German theater, a better method of illuminating the stage having been devised.—Houston Post.

It were altogether desirable that the Post go into details, in this "Post-Script." What is this better method of illuminating the stage? Are there, perchance, veritable actors, players in Germany whose talent is of such lustre that footlights would be ashamed? Who are they, and how can their type be trained, or bred? Any method of illuminating the stage would be of rare interest to this country that suffers with its infinite variety of shines that star in the reflection of foot and spot lights of Nth. power alone.

Preferable.

One way to keep down the cost of living is to raise as many things as possible at home.—Palestine Herald.

Col. A. R. McCollum Has Tender of Waco Postoffice

Friday's Mail Brought a Statement from Congressman Henry that He Would Endorse Him—Not an Applicant—A Faithful Democrat.

If he cares to accept, there has come to Col. A. R. McCollum, editor of the Waco Semi-Weekly Tribune, the voluntary tender by his congressman that he will recommend him to the president of the United States as postmaster at Waco.

Yesterday morning the mail brought to Mr. McCollum a letter from Congressman Henry advising him that he would be glad to endorse him for postmaster in his home town. In the same mail there came to the Waco newspapers a typewritten statement from Congressman Henry, mailed at Washington November 9, as follows:

"Statement issued by Hon. R. L. Henry, touching Waco postoffice:

"I have thoroughly made up my mind as to the selection of one postmaster, and that is at Waco, my home city.

"If the matter is within my control I intend to recommend A. R. McCollum of Waco. He has been my faithful friend for eighteen years and has constantly supported me for congress and in every ambition I ever had. I have never had a better friend in all my life and I am quite confident that no just man can complain when I choose Mr. McCollum.

"He is a loyal democrat, and educated, refined and accomplished gentleman in every respect. No one can fault his competency. My choice in no way disparages any other aspirant. All are worthy and capable. But when I have so thoroughly made up my mind to tender my recommendation to one to whom I am so deeply indebted, it is only a matter of right that I should now make known my fixed intention.

"Mr. McCollum is not an applicant and I am voluntarily tendering him my support, for the reasons above given. I have many other warm and good friends who seek the office, but when all is said and done, in my judgment no one can criticize me for discharging this obligation and performing this righteous duty."

is a High Commitment.
No higher commitment could be paid a man than this. It has been the custom always to allow the wisdom of the member of congress or the senator if there be one to decide between various applicants who should be the postmaster in his home. This custom prevailed for many years in Waco, Senator Coke exercising that privilege, even when he was a member of the democratic side of the senate and the president was a republican.

Generally the postmaster was a personal friend of Mr. Coke, and in this way it has happened that the term of the postmaster has lapped over from one administration to the other, each serving out his four years. It has come down to now and Mr. Hoffman has about three years yet of his last appointment to serve. Whether the democratic administration will change the custom here, and political changes soon after the inauguration in March next, is not known. If when Wilson becomes president he desires to make his appointment effective at once he may do so, if he wants to retain Mr. Hoffman for the balance of his time he may do so.

Statement from Mr. McCollum.
"I will probably not be surprised to hear that I surmised what the attitude of congressman Henry regarding this matter would be. It would be strange indeed if I were lacking in grateful appreciation of his attitude and the spirit of his words. We have been personal friends and political friends through many years. It is especially gratifying to me, his statement that I did not seek the office. I have never sought any office in all my life.

This is about as much, it seems to me, as I should or could be expected to say at this time. Mr. Hoffman is still the postmaster at Waco and he has made a good one. If in the course of time, this appointment shall come to me, as Congressman Henry evidently desires shall be the case, I will then no doubt be prepared to state what my course will be, and I hope it will be of a nature that will command the approval of my home people, whose confidence I desire and hope to do all I can to deserve and to promote."

The above statement covers in sum and substance all that Mr. McCollum had to say on the subject.

Dean of Newspaper Men.
Colonel McCollum is the dean of the newspaper men of Texas. He has spent many years of his life in the work in this state—more than two score years—and he has now passed the three-score mark. During all that time he has been an earnest advocate and a wise counselor in the ranks of the democratic party. He has always conducted a democratic paper, and has been firm in the faith. He has been an active man throughout the entire time, and at times he has served as county chairman and as manager when the occasion demanded his services. He has never been an applicant for an office. At the head of a daily newspaper in Austin for over a century ago, he put all his energy into a work that meant for the growth and advancement of his home town.

When the Woodrow Wilson league was organized in Austin, Mr. McCollum was one of the active organizers; he was a member of the executive committee and he did valiant work for Wilson's nomination. After the nomination he was one of the most active and through close touch with the publicity department of the national committee he did much effective work for the democratic ticket.

It became known early in the day that Colonel McCollum had been tendered the appointment, in addition to the typewritten statement to the newspapers, there being letters to others here who had written to Mr. Henry about the matter, advising him that he would recommend Colonel McCollum. During the day these unsuccessful applicants called at the Tribune to extend their congratulations. Other calls were made during the day and until he left his editorial office late in the evening he was besieged by his friends.

"Yes, Mr. Sneed," he was asked.

The state objected, but Thompson was allowed to answer that the remarks were "vulgar, obscene and defamatory."

Then Sneed and Wheatley were recalled to the stand for these same answers.

"You gentlemen are not listening to these exceptions," Judge Swayne said to the jury while defense counsel was excepting to the court's ruling out of testimony as to Captain Boyce's exact recollection of the defense's charges.

Eugene Brock, district clerk, knew Captain Boyce and saw him in the clerk's office at the courthouse the day of the killing. He testified Captain Boyce made remarks about Mrs. Sneed. Come Johnson asked him if they were "vulgar, obscene and defamatory," but the court upheld the objection of the state this time.

Sneed to Testify.

Deal Sneed probably will go on the stand in his own defense Saturday. He will be the defense's star witness and he is expected to testify to all of the remarks Captain Boyce is alleged to have made about Mrs. Sneed and communicated to him direct.

Sneed as a witness will be the strongest attraction of the trial. Many women have said attorneys when he would begin his testimony and say they wanted to be sure not to miss it.

If Judge Swayne continues to rule out testimony of the defense as he has the last two days, the trial probably will be over within a week. Otherwise, it may continue into week after next.

Congressman's Wives in Controversy.

New York, Nov. 22.—The wife of Congressman Martin W. Littleton, of Oyster Bay, must have a grudge against Congressman Jefferson M. Levy, the present owner of Monticello, the former home and burial place of Thomas Jefferson. For more than a year Mr. Littleton has carried on a campaign for the purchase by the government of Monticello and preserving it as a historical relic for future generations. Through her efforts the bill has been introduced in congress at the last session and it is expected to come up for final action at the coming session. The Monticello estate has been in the possession of the Levy family for eighty years and the present owner, Mr. Littleton, is expected to sell at any price, an effort will be made to induce the government to acquire the estate by right of eminent domain.

SNEED WEEPS WITH OTHERS

ense could question along this line under the ruling of the court.

More Wrangling.
While Sneed was on the stand, the lawyers launched into another argument over the limit of his testimony. Senator Hanger charged Mr. Sneed with evading and trying to adduce evidence it knew was incompetent.

"Testimony in the trial," he said, "ought to be limited to the actual playing of the deceased and the guilt of the defendant."

"If it is true that Captain Boyce, the deceased, connived at, aided in and advised the elopement of Mrs. Lena Sneed with Al Boyce, Jr., Attorney William P. McLean, Jr., of the defense, said, 'these men who have to pass on Deal Sneed's liberty ought to know it.'"

"We want to prove by testimony concerning Captain Boyce's remarks that although they were not communicated to Deal Sneed, they contradicted Captain Boyce's alleged expression of hope that the affair between his son and Mrs. Sneed would come to an end. Although Captain Boyce told a friend of Atwell that 'his poor old wife's heart was broken over the affair and that he was breaking,' we have many other witnesses to testify that he made derogatory remarks about Mrs. Sneed during the same period of time. He never would have stopped the affair. He never would have quit aiding in the conspiracy."

Know Boyce's Whereabouts.
Then McLean turned back to the examination of the witness.

"Mr. Sneed," he said, "did you learn through the newspapers or from rumors that Deal Sneed had located his wife in Canada and brought her back to Texas, and did you know where Captain Boyce was at that time?"

"Yes," was the answer. "Captain Boyce was in Fort Worth."

L. O. Thompson, Amarillo drugist, said he had heard Captain Boyce make remarks about Mrs. Sneed, but that he had not communicated them to Sneed and had not repeated the remarks until Sneed's first trial for the murder of Captain Boyce.

J. D. Thompson, Amarillo coal and grain dealer, was the next witness. He said he knew Al Boyce, Jr., and Captain Boyce was friendly with Captain Boyce. He testified Captain Boyce had told him between the time of the elopement and Mrs. Sneed's return to Texas that a good friend of Al's had received a letter from Al. The letter, he said, was from Thompson and was about Deal Sneed and the fact that he had been in Texas.

FREE POSTAGE BURDENS MAIL

CAMPAIGN MATERIAL OF PAST YEAR ALLEGED CAUSE OF DEFICIT.

310,245,000 PIECES HANDLED

Hitchcock's Figures Show 3.8 Per Cent of Domestic Packages
Was Franked Matter.

Washington, Nov. 22.—Political campaign material transmitted free of postage through the mail department, according to post office department records, for the difference between a postal surplus and a postal credit deficit for the last fiscal year ending June 30.

On account of franked mail forwarded for congress, the executive departments and other executive departments show that postage at the ordinary rate on this matter would have netted the government nearly $20,000,000. About $2,250,000 of this would have been paid on political documents. The postal service handled in the year 310,245,000 pieces of franked mail, weighing 61,377,000 pounds. This was 3.8 per cent of the total weight of all domestic mail carried.

During the presidential and congressional primary campaign in the last quarter of the fiscal year as disclosed by comparison with the amounts of free matter sent during corresponding periods of previous years, an extraordinary amount of franked matter was sent through the mails at public expense. This matter consisted of political speeches, reports and documents of all kinds and even of one complete political campaign book, all of which had been made technically frankable by insertion in the congressional records. It is computed that the total weight of this franked matter was between 7,000,000 and 8,000,000 pounds, all of which was transmitted as first class mail.

Hitchcock Opposes Practice. Commenting upon these figures, Postmaster General Hitchcock, who has long urged that restriction should be thrown around the use of the franking privilege, said today:

"The unusual expense entailed upon the postal service through the transmission by mail of the great amount of political matter in the primary campaign created a temporary deficit for the first time in two years, the total expenditures for the fiscal year of 1912 aggregating $248,528,000, while the total revenues amounted to $245,745,000. Had it not been for the cost of carrying franked political mail, the postal account would have shown a surplus of more than $1,000,000. Instead of a deficit of $1,781,000. And this surplus I have indicated would have developed notwithstanding the fact that the compensation of postal employees was increased during the year by an aggregate of $6,000,000."

Computations of expenditures and revenues indicate, however, that since the close of the last fiscal year, the postal service is once more on a self-sustaining basis. On November 1—the last date of available figures—it was found that the receipts were materially greater than the expenditures for the current year. Mr. Hitchcock expects this condition to continue throughout the year, despite the large expenditure contingent upon the establishment of the parcels post system.

AN OVERHEATED ELECTRIC IRON

Had Burned Into Ironing Board and Ruined a Hat in Millinery Store.

An overheated electric iron was making good headway to starting a fire in the Vogue millinery store in the Miotrot building on Fifth and Washington streets at 10:30 o'clock last night, when discovered. No damage was done save to an ironing board and one hat under construction.

The fire was discovered by A. J. Quamer, who notified H. B. Miotrot and sons, who arrived soon in an automobile and located the hot iron. The current was cut off and a bucket of water cooled the smoking ironing board. The hat had perished.

Are You Generous?

Are you paying your fire insurance for your own benefit or for the protection of the other fellow—in other words, when you purchased that certain tract or parcel of land and erected improvements thereon, did you use "that degree of diligence which an ordinarily prudent person would have used" in ascertaining whether your title was good or not? Is your investment safe? Will your title bear inspection? Will it stand in court? If you have not used every precaution, how do you know you are a property owner? Is your title guaranteed—if not, don't you think it best to have the matter looked into? Do not wait until you get ready to sell and then find you have a defective title. Have a "title guaranty" issued now and eliminate all this future worry.

TRADE DEALS HEAVY

BRADSTREET AND DUN REPORT
GREAT VOLUME OF RETAIL BUSINESS.

Demand Exceptionally Large, Considering Mild Weather—Dry Goods
Sales Increase.

New York, Nov. 22.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:
Trade channels are running full, with optimism predominant, and this, despite wide evidences that mild weather is a bar to fullest activities in final distribution. It is to be noted that mild climatic conditions are and have been in a high degree favorable to agricultural and transportation interests.

The strength of prices and of demand in the textile trade is a subject of interest. Dry goods are in active demand from mill to retailer, though mild weather hampers retail demand for heavyweight goods. Cotton goods are strong and print cloths and broad cotton have advanced in price with commission men. With the yarn trades both cotton and woolen lines are strong and active. Raw wool of the old clip is in scant supply, in normal demand and firm in price.

Best reports as to jobbing and retail trade come, as heretofore, from the west, northwest and southwest, and where house trade has fallen off, as in the case of some markets, road orders are more than making good the deficit.

Southern trade tends to lag somewhat behind the other sections. Road slowness is manifested only at a few southeastern points.

Operations in iron and steel lines continue as active, if not more active, than heretofore.

Business failures in the United States for the week ending November 21 were 288 against 260 last week 194 in the same week of 1911, 212 in 1910, 217 in 1909 and 193 in 1908.

Business failures in Canada number 26, which contrasts with 32 for last week and 34 in the like week of last year.

R. G. Dun's Report.
New York, Nov. 22.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly trade review tomorrow will say:

Trade in the United States shows further expansion reports from different sections and all statistics of traffic and exchanges speaking of a great activity that, in some instances, is bounded only by the limit of supply.

In iron and steel the leading interest is operating at about 95 per cent of capacity. Current bookings continue to exceed production, with railroad requirements forming a large share of the new business.

In the primary dry goods markets there is a large volume of business, with prices in practically all instances well maintained. Jobbers of cotton goods are making liberal purchases of domestic and staples for spring. Bleached cottons have stiffened. There is more activity in print cloths for future delivery and the duck markets continue very strong. Export trade has been only moderate of late, but the shipments for the year to date aggregate 34,960 bales against 314,600 bales during the same period in 1911.

In woolens there is an active demand for overcoatings for immediate delivery and desirable goods bring full market rates. Considerable business has been offered the mills for the next heavyweight season, but comparatively few orders have been placed because manufacturers are asking for higher prices than buyers are willing to pay.

A very active trade is moving in worsted knitting yarns and cotton yarns have sold freely at firm prices. The activity in the shoe trade has now reached close to the point of productive capacity. Leather and hides continue very strong.

FOOTBALL STAGE RADIANT TODAY

HARVARD AND YALE ACTORS
ARE TO DECIDE GREAT-EST STAR.

35,000 SPECTATORS TO ATTEND

Winners to Be Declared Holders of Highest Gridiron Honors of Season's Picking.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 22.—The highest football honors of the year among eastern colleges, if not in the country, await the winner of tomorrow's struggle between Harvard and Yale on Yale field.

Harvard and Yale are the only colleges in the east whose colleges have gone through the season without defeat, except Pennsylvania state. This latter college generally has been regarded as of lesser caliber. Yale was tied by Princeton, but as Harvard has defeated the Tigers, a Blue victory tomorrow was conceded by experts as to rank as an accomplishment of undoubted championship merit.

Both teams are expected to display a series of offensive and defensive maneuvers of a higher stage of development than any yet shown under the latest revision of the rules.

Thirty-five thousand persons will be packed on the wooden stands of Yale field. Tonight New Haven entertained the largest "night-before" crowd in many years.

Betting Lively.

Betting was lively about the hotels. While Harvard continued the favorite, he flood of Blue money which appeared today narrowed the odds from 10 to 7 to 10 to 9. Some wagers were at even money.

The Yale team spent the night on the outer edge of the city, removed from the tumult. The Harvard squad, this evening, ran through its last workout.

Both elevens are in good condition. Until last Saturday, Harvard was regarded as superior to Yale in kicking because of Brickley's drop and place goals and Felton's well-directed punts, but in the Princeton game Yale uncovered possible equals in "Lefty" Flynn and Pumphly.

Yale averages per man nearly ten pounds more than Harvard in weight. Yale has not been scored on this year, while the crimson goal has been crossed by Brown and Princeton.

The probable line-up:
Harvard— Position. Yale.
O'Brien Left end Avery

Parmenter Center Ketcham

Trumbull Right guard Pendleton

Hitchcock Right tackle W. Warren

ATHENS DEFEATS CORISCANA.

Heated Contest Ends With the Score 14 to 13.

Athens, Nov. 22.—Athens eliminated the last opponent for Central East Texas football championship, and closed an undefeated season by defeating Corsicana 14 to 13. Athens made a touchdown in the first four minutes of play in the second quarter.

Corsicana scored a touchdown, but failed on goal in the third quarter. Corsicana crossed again and in the last quarter Athens came back for another. The game was close throughout.

Athens excelled in the use of the forward pass. Captain Wofford for Athens, was the star of the game; he handled his team perfectly and time after time went through when the gains were needed. Wofford is a product of J. Burton Rix and uses the Yost formation and plays. Jones, Ford, Adams, Ike Larue and Richardson did good work.

Corsicana's strength lay in her backfield. Absher and Holloway played good game on the halves, and Bullock proved an excellent quarter manager.

Bill Tarve is well pleased at having an undefeated team and says he has some good material for Ralph Glaze next year.

MURDER TRIAL CONTINUES.

Ollie Beaupre Case Reaches Attorneys' Arguments.

Waxahachie, Nov. 22.—Arguments began today in the trial of Ollie Beaupre of Dallas, accused of the murder of his wife. Last night Beaupre told the same story as to his meetings with Miss Elsie Gray as was testified to at the other trial. He admitted meeting her in a Dallas restaurant where they lived. Beaupre said the Gray woman kissed him at the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Patterson testified that Elsie Gray told them that Beaupre was "hers" and she was going to have him, and that she and Beaupre were to be married; and that he was not living with his wife. Patterson admitted that the testimony of his wife at the time the former trial was contradictory in part to that given by him.

NEW SHIPS BEING BUILT.

Opening of Panama Canal Expected to Increase Traffic.

San Francisco, Nov. 22.—A local shipping company has ordered a 10,000 ton ship to be built on the Atlantic coast to meet the increase in business expected with the opening of the Panama canal. The company now has three ships of like tonnage under construction on the eastern coast.

The fourth ship was ordered after the receipt of reports from a special agent in New York and the east and its probable development when the canal opens.

CHINESE GIRLS DEPORTED.

Government Officials Allege "White Slave" Violations.

San Francisco, Nov. 22.—The utmost diligence of the government has not succeeded in breaking up the Chinese traffic in slave girls. On Angel Island today awaiting deportation are five Chinese girls secretly arrested last night. Immigration officials said they were brought here by American born Chinese acting as "agents" who were paid $1500 each and their expenses to visit China; marry there a pretty girl, bring her to this country and then sell her into a life of shame.

Search is being made for the husbands.

Cullum's Granddaughter a Bride.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 22.—A new grandson, or more correctly speaking, a "grandson-in-law," was the rather unique present received today by the venerable Senator Shelby M. Cullum of Illinois, on the occasion of his eighty-third birthday anniversary. The addition to Senator Cullum's family was brought about by the wedding of his granddaughter, Miss Eleanor Cullum Ridgely, daughter of William Barrett Ridgely, former controller of the currency, and Dr. Henry P. Parker of this city. The date of the wedding was selected by the bride because it was her grandfather's birthday. The ceremony was performed at noon at Senator Cullum's home on Highland Terrace. The bride had her little niece, Eleanor Ridgely Brown, as her only attendant, and Dr. Parker had his brother, John Danoldson Parker, as best man.

Young Student Astonishes Faculty.

Washington, Nov. 22.—The faculty of Georgetown university today in discussing the feat of Thomas Healey, a youthful junior who successfully passed a grueling examination in Greek, going through with the "plaid" of twenty-four books and 15,693 lines as though they were his native tongue. Healey, who had been "grinding in Greek" only two years, astonished the examining board with his exhibition of memory and his understanding of the Hellenic language. The lad is a native of Washington.

Now Treasurer Sworn In.

Washington, Nov. 22.—Carmel Thompson was sworn in as treasurer of the United States today, succeeding Lee McClung. Mr. Thompson said he would retire from political life with President Taft on March 4.

Theatrical Attractions

DANCE IN MADAME SHERRY.

"Madame Sherry"

In the Saturday issue of the Galveston Tribune appeared the following criticism of "Madame Sherry," which will be seen at the Auditorium Monday night:

"For the third consecutive season, pretty, vivacious Ada Meade, in that charming, comic opera, 'Madame Sherry,' has delighted Galveston audiences. Friday's matinee and night performances at the Grand drew fairly good houses despite counter attractions, and those who had seen the piece in previous years were unanimous in declaring that it is now being produced as artistically as ever, and bids fair to weather future seasons. If anything, Miss Meade is now giving a better interpretation of her part than ever. Her acting is more finished, although she is the same girlish little girl of three years ago, when she first captivated the Southland. She has the same sweet voice and the same charming mannerisms, and to these in a large measure is due the continued popularity of the production.

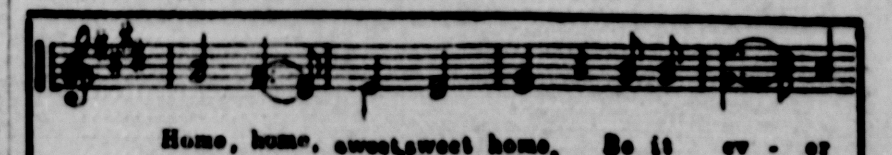

"It cannot be said, however, that 'Madame Sherry' depends upon the personnel of the company. The dainty music that forms the musical setting for the piece is destined to live for some time to come. It is far above the average music heard in musical comedy. 'Every Little Movement Has a Meaning All Its Own,' the song whose strains are heard at various times throughout the piece, has been sung and whistled by the high and low, rich and poor alike, in every part of the land and across the waters, and bids fair to continue as one of the most popular airs brought out in recent years. There are many other songs such as 'The Birth of the Butterfly,' 'The Birth of Passion' and 'Chiribibi,' that have enduring qualities, and, without the music is pleasing, placing 'Madame Sherry' in the same class with 'The Merry Widow' and 'The Chocolate Soldier,' the three forming a trio of the best light operas of recent years.

"There is more of a plot than is ordinarily offered in musical comedy—a plot that is not interrupted at frequent intervals to allow a chorus of girls scantily attired to sing ragtime that has no connection with the story. Only in the last act is there anything that approaches vaudeville. This is when the guests of Uncle Theophilus Sherry, on board his yacht Yvonne, give a number of singing and dancing numbers as a part of the evening's entertainment on board."

Cuban Election Disputed.

Havana, Nov. 22.—A national liberal assembly convened in Havana today to take steps to dispute the legality of the recent election in which Gen. Menocal was elected president of the republic. The assembly is composed of followers of Alfredo X. Zayas, who was a leading opponent of Gen. Menocal in the latter's contest for the presidency.

SIGNAL IN TIME; BE READY IN PLACE.

I. The car whizzes by! You are very angry with the motorman. But did you stand on the sidewalk looking more like a person with an idle moment than like a person who wanted to take a car? How was the motorman to know you wanted him to stop? And when he has gone by do you expect him to back up his car to take you on? Or even stop and wait for you? What would the other passengers say to all of these delays? What would you say if you were one of them?

II. The car whizzes by! It whizzes by your stop. You were on it. You wanted to get off! But how did the conductor know? You were reading the newspaper. Perhaps you were reading this advertisement. Perhaps you were lost in thought. You surely do not blame the conductor. If he stopped in the middle of the block for you, would he be giving the rest of the passengers fair play—good service? If you want him to do this sort of thing, first get the other passengers to agree to it. You are not travelling on a private car.

III. Signal in time. Be ready to get on. Be ready to get off. Not for the sake of us or of our men but as a favor to the OTHER PASSENGERS.

TEXAS PRODUCTS INCREASING

Growth of Sweet and Irish Potatoes and Other Products Attracting Attention of N. Y. Market.

New York, Nov. 22.—The Texas agent of New York potato and produce dealer has lately written of a remarkable sweet potato yield in Texas which has interested New York produce men. The letter says that 11,000 bushels of sweet potatoes were grown by Shade Grafford of Sulphur Springs, Texas, on twelve acres of land. Oats and Irish potatoes were raised on the same land this year.

Increased Production.
Sweet potatoes have been plentiful on this market, but some seasons the market is almost bare of good quality sweets and produce men will be glad to know where there is an abundant supply at such times.

The Texas agent's letter continues: "It is altogether probable that the growth of both Irish and sweet potatoes in this state will be largely extended, and also of Bermuda onions, early truck, berries, fruit and summer vegetables."

Marketing Chief Difficulty.
"The chief difficulty for some years has not been in growing these products successfully, but in finding the right markets at the right time, and distributing them where the supply is small and prices good. Trouble has also been experienced in the proper cooling, grading, inspecting, packing and shipping."

"Considerable advance has been made in the packing of products so they will successfully stand the steamship transit from Texas ports to eastern seaboard markets, and the tonnage of products thus shipped is increasing."

Water Routes Favored.
"The interior markets—Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Cincinnati and other points reached by fast freight, are still favored by many over the water route to eastern markets, but there is no doubt but that the ship lines are growing in favor. Some exports are also being made to Mexico, Cuba and Central America, with opportunities, it is believed for large gains in that trade, which also includes poultry, livestock and dressed meats."

Canning Factories.
"The canning business is also bound to be one of the great and growing industries of the state, and will be placed under more businesslike and scientific methods of grading, inspecting, careful preparation of fruit and canning."

The formation of a Farm Life Bureau was a master stroke of policy started in the early fall by the Texas Commercial Secretaries and Business Men's Association, at their annual convention at Houston. Since that time, Peter Hafford, president of the Texas Farmers' Union, has been chosen as manager of the commission, the work of which will be the commercializing of farm loans, co-operation between the business men and farmer, and more correct methods in the growing and marketing of farm crops.

New Impetus Given.
"The formation of the Farm Life commission, mentioned above, is giving great impetus to farm production, because of the large confidence instilled in the minds of farmers, that they will have active support in growing and marketing right, and that crop loans will be available at living rates, instead of at 8 to 10 per cent, as heretofore. In the opinion of many New York men who have been here, the large market centers of the east will do well to keep in as close a touch with the state of Texas as western cities are doing."

SOBER MEN LUCKY SOMETIMES.
Guard Fell Forty Feet and Ruined a Barber's Couch.

New York, Nov. 22.—The luck of intoxicated men in escaping injury is proverbial, but once in a while even sober men enjoy the most remarkable luck. One of the guards on a train of the Ninth Avenue Elevated above his escape from death to one of those miraculous cases of good luck. The other morning, while his train was rounding a curve at Greenwich street, the guard fell from the platform of his car to the street, about forty feet below. It so happened, however, that the owner of a barber shop had just moved an upholstered sofa to the sidewalk for a good brushing. The guard landed upon the sofa and, although the piece of furniture broke down under his weight, the cushions broke the man's fall sufficiently to save his life.

RABBIT JUMP KILLS MAN.
New Jersey Hunter Victim of Peculiar Circumstance.

New York, Nov. 22.—Turn about's fair play, must have thought the rabbit who shot a hunter in New Jersey the other day. It seemed like a joke, but the facts in the case are vouched for and the unfortunate hunter actually died from the effects of the wounds received.

He had placed his loaded and cocked shotgun on the ground, which he released from a trap the rabbit which he expected to shoot. The frightened animal, when released, leaped upon the gun, touched off both triggers and the double load of shot struck the young hunter. The rabbit escaped.

Woman Deportation Demanded.
San Francisco, Nov. 22.—Mrs. J. Ward Carter of London, who was arrested yesterday at a fashionable hotel here and taken to the federal detention station as an undesirable alien, deported Nov. 22, according to announcement of immigration officials. She must make her way home by another route than across the United States, the officials say. She will be given transportation to Shanghai, where she took passage.

Man Admits Killing Another.
Warsaw, N. Y., Nov. 22.—Althous Prince, who was arrested Wednesday in connection with the murder of Frank Bentley, is said to have confessed to Sheriff Bauer today that he committed the crime. The sheriff said that Bentley had been known of the attention Bentley had shown Mrs. Prince and that Prince admitted he killed Bentley in a jealous frenzy.

"This Safe Not Locked" Is Sign.
Nashville, Nov. 22.—A Harriman, Tenn., special says that uneasy for the safety of his strong box, as a result of the work of yeggs over the state, W. T. Mitchell, a merchant, has placed this sign on his safe: "This safe is not locked." Should his store be visited by burglars he figures he will at least not have to buy a new safe.

Houston, Nov. 22.—During the past forty-eight hours no less than half a dozen purses have been boldly snatched from women shoppers by negroes in the business section. A general crusade against the idle negroes has been planned as one solution to condition.

Missouri Charities Conference.

Hannibal, Mo., Nov. 22.—Several hundred visitors arrived here today to attend the annual meeting of the Missouri State Conference of Charities and Correction. The sessions will last four days, during which time the conference will discuss a wide variety of subjects pertaining to the care of the sick and dependent, the correction of the delinquent, the reform of the criminal, prison management, woman and child labor and the work of organized charity in general. Jacob Billings, superintendent of the Jewish educational institute of Kansas City, is president of the conference, and C. D. Mill, president of the Kansas City board of public welfare, is the secretary.

Governor to Lead "Turkey Trot."

Cuero, Nov. 22.—The governor of Texas leading a "turkey trot" is the unique spectacle which the people of this vicinity expect to witness the first of the week. The "turkey trot" however, will not be the Newport variety, but a parade of 10,000 gobblers doomed to grace as many tables throughout the land the coming Thanksgiving and Christmas. Cuero is in the heart of what is declared to be the greatest turkey growing district in the world, and the annual movement of the birds to market about Thanksgiving time is a sight long to be remembered. Farmers drive them in on horseback by hundreds to shipment. In celebration of the unusually large crop this year Governor Culbuck has promised to head the turkey parade with his staff in full uniform.

SUFFRAGETTES DISAPPOINTED.

Maude Malone all Alone in Court, the Trial Fails.

New York, Nov. 22.—It was very mean of the three learned justices sitting in the court of special sessions in Brooklyn the other day, to disappoint Maude Malone, the militant suffragette by refusing to make a "martyr" of her. Maude, who never overlooks an opportunity to increase her notoriety as a belligerent suffragette, was arrested for disturbing a public meeting during the recent campaign. She attended a meeting which Governor Wilson addressed and interrupted the speaker by demanding from him a public statement concerning his views on woman's suffrage. Governor Wilson declined to be drawn into an argument under the circumstances, but Maude would not give in and remained standing, until she was ejected and placed under arrest.

With great cunning Miss Malone planned to make her trial serve the double purpose of increasing her notoriety and making capital for the "cause." She sent out hundreds of invitations to her "at court" and tried her best to have Governor Wilson subpoenaed to appear in court at the trial. It was a great disappointment to Miss Malone that Governor Wilson avoided the subpoena servers by not crossing the state line into New York. This deprived her of her greatest drawing card. There was a big crowd in court, but the spectacular show which Miss Malone had planned for their diversion, did not pan out. The justices refused to take her seriously and turned the whole case into a farce. In the end they found her technically guilty, but refused to impose even the smallest possible fine upon her. Notwithstanding her pleadings to be made a "martyr" for the "cause," at least to the extent of $5.

Houston's Woman Lawyer Accused.
Houston, Nov. 22.—Among the cases set for trial in the criminal district court today are two charges against Mrs. Alice Tiernan, one of Houston's women lawyers. The complaints allege bribery. Her prosecution was instigated by District Attorney Maury at the instance of the Bar association. She is charged with visiting the jail and other points and soliciting fees for the defense of prisoners charged with law violations. Mrs. Tiernan came here from Galveston several months ago.

$500,000 For Good Roads To States.
Washington, Nov. 22.—The $500,000 appropriated by the last session of congress for improvement of roads will be distributed equitably among the states that co-operate with the federal government in this work. The cabinet has agreed the amount shall be allotted among all the states on the basis of $10,000 to each state that agrees to spend on its part $20,000 of its own funds. Several states probably cannot raise this amount.

Underwood Buys Butt's Home.
Washington, Nov. 22.—Representative Oscar Underwood of Alabama, Democratic leader of the house, today completed the purchase of the former residence of the late Major Archibald W. Butt. Mr. Underwood bought the house on the settlement of Major Butt's estate. It is a substantial building within easy walk of the White House.

KATY MACHINERY IS HERE

Will Be Installed at Once So the Terminal Can Be Put Into Service.

The machinery to be used in connection with the Missouri, Kansas & Texas East Waco terminal has arrived and is being rapidly installed. Some delay was encountered because of the late arrival of the machinery, and the date the new terminal will be ready for occupancy is still indefinite.

The company is utilizing the new tracks that have been laid as quickly as they are completed, showing the urgent need of the new terminal. The recent rain delayed the outdoor work to some extent, but all the tracks will be laid by the time the machine shop and round house are completed. About forty families will be added to the population of Waco when the terminal is opened. Many of these will come from Hillsboro and additional men will be employed. The terminal is so located and arranged that it may be enlarged at any time. The main object now is to complete the terminal according to the original plans and make other improvements later.

TRADESMEN EXPECT SETTLEMENT

Federal Commissioner Arrives in Houston To Take Up Matter.
Houston, Nov. 22.—Dr. Charles H. Neill, federal commissioner of labor, arrived in the city this morning from Washington to begin the work of adjusting differences between Harriman lines and conductors, and tradesmen between El Paso and New Orleans. It is not expected that any particular moves will be made before Saturday, as Dr. Neill says he must first thoroughly familiarize himself with the points at issue before suggesting settlement methods.

Contracts between the men and the lines expired last December. Committees representing the men are on hand. There are said to be twenty-two points of difference, but neither side will discuss them further than to say that wage questions are only indirectly concerned. Should Dr. Neill be unable to settle the trouble, Chairman Knapp of the Interstate commission will be advised and he, too, will come to Houston.

There is a general air of confidence in the ability of Dr. Neill to bring about speedy peace.

RAILWAY COMMISSIONERS MEET

Decision Is Made For Another Meeting Oct. 26.
Washington, Nov. 22.—The National Association of Railway Commissioners now in session here decided yesterday to meet in Washington again next year, beginning on Oct. 25.

After considerable discussion the convention adopted a resolution favoring legislation providing for federal and state regulation of the issuance of railroad stocks and securities.

and familiarizing himself with conditions there. He has been making a tour of the entire lines in Texas since succeeding F. S. Jones as superintendent Nov. 1.

Lady Evelyn Grey a Bride.
London, Nov. 22.—The American ambassador, Whitelaw Reid, lent Dorchester House today for the wedding reception of Lady Evelyn Grey and Mr. Lawrence Jones. Lady Evelyn is the youngest surviving daughter of Earl Grey, former governor general of Canada, and is well known socially in New York and Newport as well as in Canada. Lawrence Jones, the bridegroom, is a well known London barrister and the eldest son of Sir Lawrence J. Jones, Archdeacon Wilberforce officiated at the marriage ceremony, which took place in St. Margaret's church, Westminster, in the presence of a large and fashionable assemblage.

Marriage Unites Rich Families.
Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 22.—After a courtship that proved the truth of the old adage that "the course of true love never did run smooth," Miss Dorothy Wilbur of this city today became the bride of Richard McSherry, well known clubman. The engagement of the couple was first made known two years ago. Last April the father of bride-to-be announced that it had been broken. No reason was given and friends were disappointed, for Miss Wilbur was one of the most popular and beautiful young women in Philadelphia society. But Mr. McSherry persisted in his courtship, with the result that the engagement was renewed and the wedding date fixed. The bride is the daughter of Rollin G. Wilbur, one of Philadelphia's wealthiest citizens, while Mr. McSherry is the son of an equally wealthy resident of Baltimore.

COTTON MAKES GAIN

MARKET SHOWS UPWARD TENDENCY DESPITE RATHER IRREGULAR TONE.

Prices at Close 2 to 16 Points Higher. Initial Deals Active, But They Fall Off Later.

New York, Nov. 22.—While somewhat irregular, the cotton market showed a generally upward tendency today and closed firm at a net gain of 2 to 16 points.

The opening was steady at an advance of 1 to 6 points and the market soon sold off 5 to 12 points above the closing figures of last night on cotton futures trading. The market was well supported by relatively firm Liverpool cables; larger English spot sales and reports that estimates of the Indian crop were being reduced owing to unseasonable rains.

The advance met heavy realizing sales, however, and the market during the late forenoon broke rather sharply under this pressure and local selling. Near months were relatively easy, breaking to a net loss of 8 to 12 points and later deliveries lost all their early advance. March contracts selling at a point or two under the close of last night.

Offerings were very well absorbed on the set-back with spot brokers big buyers and on reminders that there was an active demand from spinners, the market became very active and firm during the afternoon, selling back to practically the high point of the movement on all the spring and summer deliveries, with the general lists showing net gains of from 7 to 18 points. Closing prices were within a point of the best.

The into sight movement for the week was very heavy, being a new high record, but spinners' takings were in excess of early estimates and the week-end statement seemed to be without any particular influence. A central belt trade paper published a crop estimate of 13,595,000 bales, which appeared to be a factor on the opening advance and numerous reports were received here during the afternoon to the effect that the crop had been picked and ginned with unusual rapidity.

New Orleans.

New Orleans, Nov. 22.—Cotton opened steady, unchanged to six points up on good cables. Bulls gave the market supporting orders and called attention to the large amount of rain that fell in Texas over night. This, it was said, would interfere with picking and would reduce the grade of cotton left in the fields. The market had a very steady tone in the early trading with no great amount of cotton offering from any direction. At the end of the first half hour of business prices were nine points up.

It was a small narrow market during the larger part of the morning session. Around the middle of the morning some weakness was displayed on the pointer to the weeks into sight of about three-quarters of a million bales. Shorts increased their offerings on this and prices fell to a level of 1 to 2 points under yesterday's closing. Longs bought steadily, and the market recovered later, standing at noon at a net advance of 5 to 7 points.

In the afternoon the market was quiet but very steady. At 2 o'clock futures were 13 to 14 points up yesterday's final figures.

FLEMING DINES HIS CO-WORKERS

SHERIFF-ELECT GIVES BANQUET TO THOSE WITH WHOM HE HAS BEEN ASSOCIATED.

TELLS HOW HE SUCCEEDED

Has Always Tried to Go a Little Higher All the Time—Appreciates Help of His Friends.

Sam S. Fleming, surrounded by 61 co-workers of the McLendon Hardware company, made good a campaign promise last night in the dining room of the Exchange hotel. He was host to the employees of the concern for which he worked since he came to Texas eight years ago, and he fulfilled his promise, either to tell them how he won or how he lost the office of sheriff, made on March 16, last.

S. S. FLEMING

It was upon March 16 that W. E. Edgar, who was toastmaster last night, invited Mr. Fleming to promise to take supper with him. He met the candidate who was soon to leave the employ of the firm to enter the campaign at the Cotton Belt depot, but he was not alone. Every man and child connected with the firm also was there, and the sheriff-to-be was ushered into the dining hall of the Nattatorium, and there given the surprise of his life, a sumptuous banquet having been laid in his honor.

As soon as Mr. Fleming was able to speak—and it was freely and openly charged last night that on that occasion he sobbed—he promised that whatever the outcome of the campaign, he would give a return dinner at its close, and then and there explain just how he won or how he lost the fight. He said last night his job was "easier than it might have been."

Among the speakers of the evening were W. H. Torian, on "The Advantages of a Silent Banquet"; Miss Rose Garfinkle, on "The Man Who Wins"; John W. Taber, on "Let Me Forget"; Louis Kellner, on "Made in Germany"; Miss Elizabeth Williamson, on "His Winsome Ways"; the remarks of Toastmaster W. E. Edgar keeping the crowd in humorous vein throughout the night. He instructed each speaker that a crime would be committed should any of them adhere to their subject. None did. The universal subject was "Sam S. Fleming, the Man and the Friend."

Mr. Fleming's Remarks.
Responding to the sincerely expressed love and friendship for him, Mr. Fleming said:

"Mr. Toastmaster, Ladies and Gentlemen: It is a pleasure for me to be here and to have you with me. Some of you may not remember just how this dinner came about, so I'll explain."

"On March 16 last I was inveigled into meeting one W. E. Edgar at the Cotton Belt depot. He said he wanted me to take supper with him, as he wanted to talk with me about my race for sheriff. I went, and to my astonishment ran into the whole bunch from the store. I was taken to the Nattatorium, and there, when I was able to speak at all, after having eaten the supper prepared for me, I promised that whether I was elected or not, after the campaign was over, I would have you all take dinner with me, and I would then tell you just how I lost or won my race. You see, I am fulfilling my campaign promise."

"I won my race as the result of 43 years of preparation. I say this for the benefit of you younger men, for I was 43 years old in October. During my life I have seen misfortunes. I have always been ambitious to be a little better than I ever was before, to go just a little higher than I ever went before, but many a time, when I thought I was getting up a little in the world, I have found myself slipping back, and the feeling has come over me that the game of life was a cruelly hard one for the loser."

Ambition to Do Better.
"My ambition to do just a little more than I ever did before is the same tonight that it was twenty years ago. My aged father—he is now 72 years old, and lives on the old home place in Missouri—has always told me that the way to do was to settle down and be satisfied with one thing. In this one thing my father and I disagreed. I don't believe in being satisfied. Satisfaction with a man's present position means stagnation, or retrogression. He isn't ambitious to push ahead, he is certain to slide backward."

"Each day I have striven hard to step a little higher than I was the day before. I want to get along in this world. When eight years ago I crossed the Texas border, entering a land of total strangers to me to take charge of a department at the instance of T. B. Bomar, I believed I was advancing. I think I have advanced since then, from a friendless condition to a point at which I think I can count many friends in McLendon county."

"I told you of the personal foundation I have been laying to win the office I am to assume. How was I elected? You, my fellow workers, elected me to office. Without your help I could not have been sheriff. Had you been against me, the county would not have been for me."

"For days workmen may be seen employed in laying the foundation of a large building. They do not seem to be getting anywhere. But the foundation, if faulty, will mean destruction to the building after it has been reared. You, my friends, were my foundation in the campaign, and had you failed me, my whole structure of effort would have fallen."

"I have heard men say that they could hardly get out of the McLendon Hardware Company's building before they promised to vote for me. Suppose they had mentioned my name and you had not said a good word for me? I would have been lost. The credit is due you, and I want you to know it."

"Outside of you folks, during the entire campaign there was not a man who believed what he was saying, and to tell you the honest truth, there weren't over half a dozen who had the nerve even to say it. But you believed in me, worked for me and encouraged me to better efforts on my own part."

Wanted to Win for Mother's Sake.
"I did want to win that election, and I wanted to win with the old folks who are still living, and I wanted to know that I had done something, something bigger and better than I had ever done before, and something bigger than any of the Flemings had ever done. The proudest moment you all know of was when I telegraphed news of my election to them. Another proud moment will be the day of my inauguration, December 12, if they can come to Waco by that time to be present. They are going to spend the winter with me."

"That's why I killed two horses in the campaign and spent—'all you had and all you could borrow,' said a piece—yes, all I had and all I could borrow. I didn't want my boys to see me fall down, either, after I had undertaken the task."

"I want to hold the office of sheriff for a reasonable length of time. I am not going to be satisfied with the office of sheriff. There are other things I can do and I am not going to stay sheriff forever if I can help it."

"In closing, I want to invite you all to come and see me at the courthouse when I am sheriff. I want you all to come to see me, but I don't want to have to come after a single one of you."

A bonus telegram, announcing a double murder at Reisel, reached the sheriff just as the turkey was being served. He declined to go for two expressed and one unexpressed reason. He said he wouldn't go because he hadn't bought his gun; secondly, because if it was a double murder, the couple would probably wait quietly until he got there; thirdly, and unexpressed, the fact remains that turkey was being served.

The Invited Guests.
The invited guests at the banquet were: W. E. Edgar, S. P. Wright, A. G. Gaynor, L. Kellner, Miss Elizabeth Williamson, Miss Rose Garfinkle, Miss Margaret Burke, Gus Rosenthal, J. W. Taber, Vince Aeri, G. E. Friedholm, C. R. Cooper, Fletcher Carter, T. J. Dromgoole, J. P. Brewington, W. E. Davis, T. E. Cooper, J. Darwin, Miller Harper, W. T. Barnes, Milton McLaughlin, J. S. Inland Waterway Meeting Continues.
Palacios Nov. 22.—The second day's session of the Inland Waterway meeting was with an attendance of nearly 500 from Texas and Louisiana mainly. Henri L. Guaydan and Congressman-elect Lasoro are among those from the latter state. Congressmen Burgess also is participating. Committees named yesterday will begin presenting reports this afternoon. Enthusiasm prevails and the belief is that all obstacles to the canal will soon be overcome. President C. S. E. Holland, it is said, will be re-elected and Houston seems certain of the next meeting.

ICE CREAM MAKERS

THE NATIONAL MANUFACTURERS SPEND THE DAY IN WACO ON INSPECTION.

Visit the Well-equipped M-B Plant and Also the Purity Company. List of the Visitors.

Forty members of the National Ice Cream Manufacturers' Association, which concluded its annual convention in Dallas Thursday, arrived in Waco yesterday at noon aboard a special Pullman car, making their first stop during their tour of the state and visiting the plants in this city.

Of chief interest to the visitors here was the dry air hardening room employed by the M-B Ice Cream Company, the room being the only one in Texas and the only one of the exact kind in operation in the United States.

Into a temperature of 12 degrees below zero the visitors were led by A. P. McLendon, and here the process was explained. Ranged along each side of the room are snow-white cabinets, and the floors are of concrete and the ceiling of metal. Two large pipes, probably three feet in diameter, are suspended over the cabinets and connected with them. The pipes are hollow through, but between the layers of metal is ammonia. At one end of the hollow piping is a strong electric fan. This blows the cold air through tubes into the cabinets. On shelves in the cabinets are ranged the freezers of cream, and under a temperature of 12 below they are made solid to the center. The temperature can be lowered to 30 degrees below at will.

There is not the slightest moisture nor sign of ice about the floors of this "dry room." It is dry, and the system was voted by those who witnessed it yesterday as being one of the most wonderful they have ever seen.

On their arrival in the city, the delegates were taken from their private car to the State House, where they had luncheon. Local delegates then piloted them to the plant of the M-B company and to the Purity company's plant near the courthouse, and later they were taken in automobiles over the city.

C. W. Smith and Geo. W. Boedeker, both ice cream men of Dallas, are in charge of the party throughout the tour. They had planned to get a special train for the tour, but as a number of the delegates who had expected to take the trip were unable to come, it was decided that a special car would carry the crowd.

The following were in the party here yesterday:

George Coleman, Mr. Carmel, Ill., and Mrs. Coleman; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Miller, Cape Girardeau, Mo.; G. S. Waginer, Chicago; C. W. Smith, Dallas; O. M. McShane, Waco; Geo. E. Taylor, Genoa Junction, Wis.; G. R. Dedds, Superior, Neb.; J. S. Nelson, St. Louis, Mo.; W. W. Tumbull, Columbia, O.; Philip Fritz, Grand Rapids, Mich.; O. N. Carr, Waco; J. B. Porter, Tulsa, Okla.; A. M. McCoy, Kansas City; R. E. Courtney, Dallas; N. M. Woodman, Waco; D. R. Vren, Fort Worth; W. W. Wagon, Waco; E. E. Fugard, Waco; Henry Gossman, Olney, Ill.; Mrs. Gossman; Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Beckman, Dayton, O.; W. S. Thompson, Tulsa, Okla.; Mrs. Thompson; A. E. Fritzsche and Mrs. Fritzsche, Hobart, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Schwindeler, Quincy, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Kline, San Antonio, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. D. Mansfield, Milwaukee; and Misses Ethel and Esther; Geo. L. Boedeker, Dallas; W. W. Jull, Coldwater, Mich.; William Hutson, Lufkin, Tex.; and L. D. Sleight, Waco.

The party left at midnight for San Antonio. They will go from there to Houston and Galveston and then back to Dallas, where they will disembark.

CITY WILL DO THE WORK

Water Commission to Have Roark-Monigan Build the Intake and Storage Wells.

The city waterworks commission has about closed a deal with the Roark-Monigan company of Fort Worth to build the intake, conduit and storage well in connection with the new, $400,000 waterworks plant.

Bids were advertised for on two different occasions and each time the offers were several thousand dollars above what the waterworks commission deemed the work could be done for and the bids were rejected. The lowest bid received was about $12,900 and the highest run to $18,000. The estimate made by the consulting engineer does not exceed $9000, considering all difficulties and the best grade of work possible, and he believes the work can be done for $2000 less.

Superintendent Quay says that the bidders were afraid the river would overflow and ruin the work in progress and bid accordingly to protect themselves in this event. He says the city can take the risk and have the work done by piece work or on a flat contract and build the intake, conduit and storage well at approximately the cost estimated by the engineer.

The Roark-Monigan company did the concrete work for the filtering plant in Fort Worth built by the Pittsburgh Filter company and has a contract with the same company to do the same class of work on the filtering plant here.

PICKED UP WRONG PACKAGE.

Negroes Is Arrested, but Says It Was a Mistake.

Mattie Gaston, negro, made a serious mistake yesterday when she picked up the wrong bundle in Sanger's store. The package contained a lady's waist belonging to Mrs. W. O. Baker and when she mistook it for an employee of the store notified the police department and Policeman Morgan arrested the Gaston woman and delivered her to the sheriff on a charge of theft.

The negroes claimed the whole affair was a sad mistake, and explained that the incident could very easily happen, but the store employee and the police took a different version of the case and Mattie will have to air her troubles in court.
